

Sargent Refuses To Furnish Data In Wheeler Case

Attorney General Declines To Give Information Asked As to Witnesses Against Senator.

DECLARES SENATE MUST TAKE ACTION

Tells Committee That Publication "Would Be Incompatible With Public Interest."

Washington, April 14.—(AP)—Flat refusal of Attorney General Sargent to answer several questions by Senator Walsh, democrat, Montana, balked a senate judiciary subcommittee late today in its consideration of the Walsh resolution for information regarding the prosecution of Senator Wheeler, democrat, Montana, last summer.

The resolution "directs" the attorney general to inform the subcommittee regarding the expenses of conducting the prosecution of Senator Wheeler on the charge that he had acted illegally in connection with oil land leases and whether the department of justice plans to institute perjury proceedings against George B. Hayes, New York attorney, and prosecution witness at the Great Falls, Montana, trial.

Sargent Gives Reasons.
Mr. Sargent's refusal was based on the ground that the resolution was improper and that the information desired by Senator Wheeler should not be disclosed because publication would be "incompatible with the public interest."

Referring to data regarding two witnesses who the government contends would have corroborated Hayes' testimony that he met Senator Wheeler in New York and was asked by him to become associated in obtaining land permits, Senator Walsh asked Mr. Sargent whether he had a copy of that data with him.

"I have not," answered the attorney general.

"Will you tell us the names of those two persons?"

"Can I or will I?"

"Can you?"

"Yes."

"Will you?"

"No."

At this point the attorney general became interrogator.

"Who is charged with the responsibility of instituting proceedings—the legislative or executive branch of the government?" he asked Senator Walsh.

"The department of justice, I presume," replied Walsh.

Senate Must Make Request.

Finally the attorney general said he would not furnish the information Senator Walsh wanted until the senate has asked for it.

"I consider it the duty of the senate," he added, "to consider very gravely whether it intends to ask such a question. I can't ignore what I consider my duty."

The attorney general was standing pat on his refusal to be drawn out when the committee session adjourned.

MAN DROPS DEAD WHEN HIS HAND REVEALS 8 ACES

(Copyright, 1926, by The Constitution and The Chicago Tribune.)

Chicago, Ill., April 14.—The shock of picking up "a thousand aces," a hand he never had encountered in a lifetime of pinocle playing, is believed to have been too much for the weak heart of Herman Schlee, 68, last night. Schlee picked up his cards, smiled at his friends with whom he was playing in the home of Charles Goerlik, then dropped dead. The hand that had been dealt Schlee consisted of eight aces.

Helping Others To Help Themselves

This morning The Constitution is going into more than 32,000 homes in Atlanta and suburbs. In every one there is a problem of certain purchases to be made today.

The problem of selection is greatly simplified by the advertisements of Atlanta merchants carried into those homes by The Constitution.

The "thousand and one" things that are wanted are advertised; quality, style, etc., described, and prices given. The purchasing agent of the home may sit in an easy chair and determine what to buy and where to purchase it; and if it does not require personal selection, she may order it by telephone.

Reading the advertisements in The Constitution every morning is a regular custom in over 32,000 homes in Atlanta and suburbs, for—

Wines Would Not Be Restored Under Plan of Andrews as Outlined on Stand.

LEADING DEVELOPMENTS IN PROH SITUATION.

Washington, April 14.—Prohibition developments Wednesday included:

Recommendation for light beer, nonintoxicating in fact, by Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Andrews, in charge of enforcement.

Attack on those who seek to evade constitution in spirit without changing the letter of it by Senator Borah.

Request by President Coolidge for supplemental appropriation of $3,000,000 for enforcement expenses involved in reorganization of prohibition forces now going on.

Favorable report by senate foreign relations committee on Cuban convention to suppress rum smuggling.

BY RAYMOND CLAPPER.

(By Leased Wire to The Constitution and The Chicago Tribune.)

Herrin, Ill., April 14.—This turbulent center of "bloody Williamson" county is a smoldering mine of political, racial, religious and plain old-time feud hatreds tonight, while bayonets and machine guns for the eighth time in four years have restored it to peace.

Some say that the six men killed in yesterday's election riots were the victims of a vendetta dating back to the ill-fated "bloody vendetta" of 30 years ago. Others say that they were the victims of the bootlegging that has ridden Williamson ever since the coming of the great American drought.

Still others aver it is klan and anti-klan.

The most reliable information appears to be that they were the victims of a political fight for control of this section of the state, and that the fighting is not yet over.

Troops to Remain.

The soldiers who pace the streets as the factions eye one another coldly will remain here, it is given out "for an indefinite period."

Certainly, they will remain over next Tuesday, for there is an aldermanic election in Herrin that day, an election in which klan and anti-klan each have a ticket in the field and the contesting is expected to be bitter.

On the outcome of next Tuesday's election probably rests the question of whether klansmen or anti-klansmen will control the Herrin city administration and perhaps have a heavy hand in the administration of affairs in this section generally.

And while that election may bring more trouble and perhaps more bloodshed, there is another disturbing element. It has been said around Herrin and in Marion that they, meaning the anti-klansmen, "didn't get the men they intended to get, but that they aren't discouraged."

Inquest Today.

The inquest into the deaths of the last half dozen victims has been set for Thursday morning. Coroner George Bell today impaneled a jury. The six men viewed the six bodies so that the funerals might proceed, and the coroner then told them to come back to the city hall Thursday.

State Attorney Artie Boswell, for some strange reason, has issued an edict barring newspapermen from this inquest. He simply says they will not be admitted. He does not explain why.

Three of the six victims of yesterday were klansmen, three anti-klansmen. There comes from Marion a story that a seventh man was shot dead in the fighting, that he was killed while sitting in one of the three automobiles driven by the anti-klan. This story has it that the anti-klan carried his body away to keep his identity unknown, and that an unsuccessful attempt to bury him was made some time ago.

Wines Not Favored.

"I do not think palatable wines can be manufactured which would not be intoxicating," Andrews said.

"But 12 per cent wines wouldn't be intoxicating," Reed suggested.

"I don't know about that," the witness replied. "I wouldn't like to say anything about wines. I do believe it would be helpful in suppressing bootleggers if the government would supervise distribution of beverages that are non-intoxicating in fact. It would be disastrous if beer were sold in saloons. I think it would be well if we had close government supervision. I think many citizens may."

HERBERT PORTER NAMED Advertising Director For The Constitution

(Copyright, 1926, by The Constitution and The Chicago Tribune.)

Herbert Porter, effective today, becomes director of advertising of The Constitution.

For the past six and one-half years Mr. Porter has been connected with The Atlanta Georgian, first as advertising manager, and for the past two years as director of advertising. Since coming to Atlanta he has made many friends and has taken an active part in the civic life of the city.

He was born in Omaha, Nebraska. Prior to the war he lived in various parts of the country—for the greater part of the time in Michigan. He served in naval aviation during the war as detail officer in the aviation regiment at Great Lakes, Ill. Immediately after the war he went to The Birmingham News, coming to Atlanta from there.

Mr. Porter is past president of the Civitan Club of Atlanta, Advertising Club of Atlanta and Fourth District Advertising Clubs of the World. He is a past vice president of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World and served two terms as vice president of Civitans.

At present he is a member of the Inter-Civic council, board of directors of the Civitan club, chairman of directors of Advertising Club of Atlanta, and a member of the Masonic club and the Capital City club. He is married and lives in Druid Hills, at 337 Briardrift road.

Prior to entering newspaper work Mr. Porter served as assistant advertising manager of the Studebaker Corporation at the time the company's headquarters were in Detroit.

Mr. Porter's appointment as director of advertising will entail no change in the personnel of The Constitution's advertising staff. T. B. French will continue as local advertising manager; H. L. Tutwiler as assistant local advertising manager; J. R. Holliday, foreign advertising manager, and T. A. O'Brien classified advertising manager.

SENATE INVITES COOLIDGE TO COME

President Is Urged To Attend National Convention of Disabled Veterans in Atlanta.

The Georgia general assembly will adjourn at 1 o'clock this afternoon, 51 days after convening, February 24. This extra session is the longest on record in the state with the single exception of the provisional legislature under Governor Rufus B. Bulloch in 1870.

When house and senate adjourned Wednesday, they decided to meet at 10 o'clock this morning, thus allowing three hours for the wind up of unfinished business.

One outstanding measure remains on the calendar in the senate, and indications are that it will be passed tomorrow with little opposition. It is a house resolution proposing to the people that the constitution be amended so as to permit the governor to borrow $3,500,000 with which to promptly pay school teachers.

Featuring the house session Wednesday was the defeat of a senate bill authorizing counties to assign their one cent gasoline tax to the state highway department by contract. The fight against this bill was led by leaders in the road bond forces, and it was pointed out that counties which did this would be robbing their own

Opera Audiences May Break Record

(Copyright, 1926, by The Constitution and The Chicago Tribune.)

Last-minute rush for seats to Auditorium expected by Musical Festival Association.

BY RALPH T. JONES.

With the opening of Atlanta's 16th annual week of Metropolitan Grand opera only five days distant, officials of the Music Festival association announced Wednesday that there has been a tremendous last-minute rush for seats at the box office in the Cable Pines company building at 84 North Broad street. This added to the record-breaking advance sale recorded more than a month ago, makes doubly sure the prediction that the attendance this year will break all records for many seasons.

It also indicates that the individual who wants to be sure of seats for one or all of the seven performances will be wise to delay no longer in making reservations.

Interest this week, it appears, centers

ILLINOIS VOTE GIVES CAPITOL BIG SENSATION

Defeat of Senator McKinley on World Court Issue Seen as Swing Against Coolidge.

COOLIDGE REFUSES TO MAKE COMMENT

Senators Who Voted for World Court Are Startled by McKinley's Overwhelming Defeat.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

Washington, April 14.—(Special.) The results of the Illinois primary furnished Washington today with a political sensation of the first magnitude. They were widely proclaimed as straws showing which way the wind is blowing in the contest for the control of the congress which is now getting under way and will terminate with the November elections.

Omens of important coming events were found in the returns by almost every group of public men ranging from those who think the defeat of Senator McKinley forecasts a national repudiation of the Coolidge administration on the world court and other issues to the wet who detect in the Chicago referendum in favor of boxing exhibitions a popular revolt against all summary laws.

Leaders of the opposition to the entry of the United States into the world court point to the defeat of Senator McKinley in a primary in which the vote for the world court was the main issue as proof that Illinois republicans repudiate not only the action of their senators in supporting the world court resolution, but the course of President Coolidge in advocating it and the republican platform of 1921 in endorsing it.

World Court Issue.

The anti-world court leaders believe that the sentiment in Illinois on the question is indicative of the sentiment of the west. If not of the entire country and it presages the defeat of numerous other candidates for reelection to the senate who voted for the world court measure. Senators Borah (republican, Idaho), and Reed (democrat, Missouri), hailed the results in Illinois as the first victory in their fight to retire the senators who put us into the court and to elect senators who will take us out of the court eventually.

They announced that encouraged by the Illinois triumph, they would wage their fight now with redoubled vigor. Anti-administration leaders think they detect in the defeat of an administration senator by an opponent who attacked the administration record on an important issue the turning of the tide in popularity from Mr. Coolidge. If the republicans of other states are in the same mood as those of Illinois it will not be long, it is suggested, before opponents of Mr. Coolidge for renomination in 1928 will be appearing.

Anti Camp Strengthened.

The understanding here is that the victory of Colonel Smith over Senator McKinley and the defeat of Senator Deenen's organization in Cook county, strengthens the anti-administration republicans in Illinois and places them in a position to round up a sizeable block of anti-Coolidge delegates to the 1928 republican national convention.

The anti-Coolidge element in Illinois is expected to get behind Senator Borah for the republican nomination for president and by many politicians the triumph of Borah's cause over the Illinois primary is regarded as launching the Idaho senator on his career as a candidate for the presidency.

There was gloom in the white house over the victory of the anti-world court forces in Illinois but no comment was forthcoming. Some of the closest to the president professed to find some crumbs of comfort in the fact that most of the congressmen

ITALIAN PACT VOTE NEXT WEDNESDAY

(Copyright, 1926, by The Constitution and The Chicago Tribune.)

Agreement Is Reached by Which Debate Will Be Limited to 30 Minutes For Each Senator.

Washington, April 14.—(AP)—An agreement to vote on the Italian debt settlement at 4 p. m. next Wednesday was reached today by the senate.

Administration leaders are confident that the house bill approving the settlement worked out by the American and Italian commissions last summer will be passed. Opponents hope to be able either to send it back to committee or reject it outright.

An effort first was made today to obtain consent for a vote at 2 p. m. Saturday, but Senator Reed, democrat, Missouri, objected, with the declaration that he regarded the settlement as "a species of intolerable grand larceny." Later he declared that if the agreement were approved the people would repudiate the action of congress.

RUSS-JAPANESE WAR PREDICTED BY MARSHAL CHANG

(Copyright, 1926, by The Constitution and The Chicago Tribune.)

London, April 14.—The Mukden correspondent of The Evening News quotes Marshal Chang Tso-Lin, one of the two allied generals now fighting for the control of Peking, as saying that a Russo-Japanese war in Manchuria "may be inevitable."

"At any rate," Chang is quoted as saying, "bolshivism cannot be tolerated in Manchuria."

As soon as the Mukden war lord finishes his military operations around Peking, by which he hopes to drive the allegedly pro-bolshhevik troops of General Feng Yu-shiang out of the capital, he intends to withdraw his troops northward. He plans then to devote himself exclusively to Manchurian affairs, says the correspondent.

Big Wagon Factory Guttured By Flames; $100,000 Damage

(Copyright, 1926, by The Constitution and The Chicago Tribune.)

Firemen Powerless as Inflammables Feed Fire Which Wrecks J. M. Karwisch Works.

DETECTIVES PROBE ORIGIN OF BLAZE

Loss Believed Covered By Insurance and Work of Rebuilding Will Begin at Early Date.

A loss estimated at $100,000, was sustained by a fire early Wednesday night that gutted the big metal building of the J. M. Karwisch Wagon works, 174 Delta place.

Besides the heavy property loss, approximately 35 men will be thrown out of employment, at least temporarily, according to R. C. Hackman, vice president of the company.

Flames began at the southeast corner of the building from causes which fire officials and police have not learned. However, Acting Assistant Police Chief C. P. Connolly has directed Lieutenant W. H. Andrews, of the plainclothes department, to assign detectives to thoroughly investigate the fire.

Will Probe Blaze.
"I have not learned what caused the blaze," Mr. Hackman stated to The Constitution Wednesday night. "It evidently is due to one of two causes—one is, sparks from a switch engine that had been by the plant a short while before the fire was discovered. Another is, a man was seen prowling about the place, at the location where the blaze started, and he ran from the premises into the railroad yards about the time the blaze was seen. It could be that he set the place on fire," Mr. Hackman stated.

It was this latter theory that caused police and detectives to begin a searching investigation and they will leave nothing undone to learn the identity of the intruder who acted so suspiciously, police heads asserted.

He was seen by the small grandson of the night watchman, W. J. Hewell, in night watchman and lives next door to the plant, on South Delta place. His wife's attention was called to the prowler by their grandson, Mr. Hewell said. "As soon as Mrs. Hewell looked in that direction the man ran into the railroad yards and disappeared. Shortly afterward the blaze was discovered, he stated."

Fed by oils, grease and other inflammable materials the blaze spread rapidly and had almost enveloped one-fourth of the large building before Watchman Hewell could send in an alarm.

Plan to Rebuild.

Lieutenant C. C. Helms of fire station No. 13, suffered a sprained foot while fighting the flames and was taken to Grady hospital.

The blaze occurred in a space of approximately 200 feet by 150 feet, and at some points was two stories in height. The machine room and stock room are among the units of the industry that were lost. The waste, part of the plant, however, occupied by the offices, was saved, as was the hard flooring manufacturing department. This was made possible by the fire walls, to which the fire burned before firemen could get it under control.

Vice President Hackman stated that he thought the company had sufficient insurance to cover the loss and that as soon as the possible work of restoring away the debris and rebuilding of the plant would be started.

VALUE OF SCHOOL MERGERS SHOWN

Standardization of Studies in High Schools of Georgia Is Discussed at Meeting.

There are 900,000 children in Georgia who should be in school, but statistics show that only about 550,000 are actually enrolled," declared Dr. T. F. Abernethy, state health commissioner, here today at the opening of the annual convention of county school officials of Georgia.

Dr. Abernethy, who stressed the value of medical inspection in the schools, took the place on the program assigned to Governor Clifford Walker, who was unable to attend the convention. Finding the undernourished child and bringing that child up to normal was an important work to be done, he said.

Consolidation Is Topic.

The consolidation of schools into county units and the standardization of studies in high schools of Georgia were among the principal topics discussed today at the opening of the convention.

Fort E. Land, state school superintendent, C. H. Bruce, superintendent of the Bibb county schools, were among the main speakers.

These officials are holding their meeting in advance of the 61st annual convention of the Georgia Education association which opens tomorrow night. The opening talk today was made by Mr. Land, who commented in a general way on the improved rural school methods in Georgia and the plans of the organization to better the system from year to year.

A number of three-minute talks were made by many of the delegates present, calculated to show what the county school superintendents are doing in an educational way.

The main speaker tonight was Dr. Marvin S. Pittman, head of the department of rural education of Michigan State Normal college, who talked on rural education. Mrs. Fred Wessels, of Savannah, president of the State Parent-Teachers' association, also appeared on tonight's program and told what this association is doing along educational lines.

"Let the visit of the county school superintendent be a thrill rather than a shock to the pupils, the teachers and the parents of a community; let it inspire rather than depress," said Dr. Pittman.

Dr. Pittman declared that to be successful a superintendent must systematize his work; must let the schools, the students and their parents in the district know when he expects to make his visit, so that all can profit by the visit.

The city and county school teachers and officials will continue their sessions Thursday, meeting at Mercer university. A number of departmental meetings were also held today and will continue tomorrow to discuss special matters.

Main Session Today.

The main session of the Georgia Education association begins Thursday night with W. B. Martin, Gainesville, state president, presiding. It is expected that upward of 5,000 teachers, school superintendents and educators will attend this meeting. Holiday has been declared in the schools over the state Friday so that teachers may attend. The convention will continue through Saturday.

Quite a large number of prominent educators will appear on the program of the state association. Among those to speak Friday are J. W. Abernethy, state superintendent of education in Alabama; Fort E. Land, school superintendent in Georgia; Dr. Harry Clark, of Furman university; U. M. Shelling, chancellor of the University of Georgia and others.

42 PLACES CLOSED IN PADLOCK DRIVE

New York, April 14.—(AP)—A padlock offensive against 42 night clubs, restaurants, inns, and roadhouses, stretching from lower Manhattan to Catskill and Monticello, was launched tonight by United States Attorney Emory R. Buckner.

Two squads of his assistants, with prohibition and narcotic agents, started out on a series of flying visits to clamp on the padlocks immediately after information against them had been filed.

Mr. Buckner's agents made a previous record of 41 padlocks two days before Christmas.

Among the new city places were included night clubs in the theatrical district. A number of Greenwich Village places, one described as an "exclusive apartment club," one catering to downtown business men, another in the financial district and a "loft club," said to have been known only to a limited clientele.

DIRIGIBLE NORGE ARRIVES AT OSLO

Oslo, Norway, April 14.—(AP)—The dirigible Norge, which will be used by the Amundsen-Ellsworth polar expedition, arrived here today at 1:25 p. m. after a flight from Pulham, England.

Two airplanes, which flew out to meet the Norge, escorted her toward Oslo. Thousands of persons assembled along the landing point to welcome the dirigible. Among the many dignitaries present was Dr. Carl Weir, minister of defense.

Great enthusiasm prevailed as the Norge appeared over Oslo. Many persons in the crowded streets embraced each other in joy at the sight of the dirigible, which flew at a low altitude. Members of the government and the Storting stood on the roof of the parliamentary building to observe the ship. Among them were Premier Løkke and his predecessor, Dr. Mørvinckel, who stood arm-in-arm.

The Norge was made fast to her mooring mast at 3:15 a. m., after flying over the city almost two hours.

ATLANTA MAN MAKES SPEECH TO PRINTER BODY

New Orleans, April 14.—Subscriptions amounting to almost $1,000 were obtained here today during a meeting of the Southwestern Printers' federation for the purpose of a new building for the Southeastern Printers' school in Nashville, Tenn. Honore totaling about $14,000 were subscribed for the same purpose at yesterday's session.

O. M. Mickel, of Atlanta, Ga., secretary of the Atlanta Master Printers' club, discussed "What Price Printing" in making the principal speech of the day.

WILLIAMS ILL, SAYS WITNESS

General Butler's "gimlet eye" was the subject of much testimony, chiefly by Commander E. C. White, of the Marine Medical corps.

"The general was suffering from a near-nervous breakdown and the visibility of his left eye was far from perfect," the commander said.

"His teeth were in bad condition and had caused a general toxic condition."

The defense attempted to lead the commander into speculation as to whether this might have caused the general to think he was seeing a man stagger when the man wasn't staggering at all, but the prosecution objected and was sustained.

Under Nervous Strain.

White said Butler told him he had been under great nervous strain in Philadelphia, where he served two years as director of public safety.

"He was almost a physical wreck," the witness said. "His blood pressure was quite low."

As further support of the claim that something other than the cocktails was responsible for Colonel Williams' condition on the night of the party, defense witnesses said the colonel had once been a victim of tropical fever and that this often left a patient with fits or seizures of trembling.

General Butler may be recalled for questioning Thursday by Rear Admiral Thomas Washington, president of the court. Members of the military jury may want the general to elaborate on his testimony of last Monday, it was said, when he declared that Colonel Williams was "sitting drunk" and had to be "carried out" of the Hotel Del Coronado.

The prosecution is relying almost entirely on the testimony of General Butler to convict Colonel Williams.

The defense feels it struck a severe blow to the prosecution's case with the testimony of Commander White.

The military record of Colonel Williams was read into the record by the judge advocate of the court, Captain Leo Hermle, at the request of the defense counsel.

It contained a statement by Butler, commending Williams' conduct and ability as an officer.

ters in the Tuesday night opera, which brings Feodor Chaliapin, the great Russian bass, appears on the stage of the week. While there are still excellent seats available for this and for other performances of the week, they are going fast and it is altogether probable that there will be complete "sell-outs" for several of the performances during the week.

Don Quixote Popular.

Chaliapin this year is to sing the title role in "Don Quixote," Massenet's heroic comedy, with the story taken from Cervantes' great classic satire. Perhaps the reports from New York, where the opera was shown for the first time in America on April 8, have something to do with Atlanta's added interest in the program. It proved so successful on its premiere that the Metropolitan found it necessary to repeat the performance on April 12—last Monday—and it is to be sung there again tomorrow night, April 16.

The opera was written especially for Chaliapin and the role of the romantic, demented Don is said to fit his marvelous gifts as actor and singer more perfectly than anything he has yet sung.

Added interest is given to the opera by the fact that Giuseppe De Luca, the favorite Atlanta baritone, is to sing the role of Sancho Panza. De Luca, it will be recalled, is a natural comedian, in addition to possession of great vocal gifts.

Among other items of interest in the opera, it may be mentioned that when the last act comes, and Don Quixote dies, Chaliapin depicts him as dying standing up, leaning against a tree.

The story of the opera is whimsical and tragic, funny and pathetic, picturesque and ridiculous as Don Quixote, of course, should be. The ballet appears in several scenes.

MCKINLEY'S DEFEAT STARTLES CAPITAL

nominated voted for the Burton resolution favoring the world court in the last congress.

They tried to convince themselves on this showing that it could not have been the world court issue that determined the result in the senatorial contest.

World Court Senators Startled.

Senators who voted for the world court and who are candidates for reelection this year were startled by the overwhelming defeat of McKinley and some of them did not conceal fears that the Illinois result will encourage opponents to take the field against them on the world court issue, who, otherwise, would not have become candidates.

Senator Norbeck, republican, South Dakota, who voted for the world court resolution, has been renominated, the issue not figuring in that contest.

Other senators who voted for the court and are seeking renomination are: Bingham, republican, Connecticut; Bruns, republican, Massachusetts; Cameron, republican, Arizona; Caraway, democrat, Arkansas; Cummins, republican, Indiana; Fletcher, democrat, Georgia; Gooding, republican, Idaho; Jones, republican, Washington; Lenroot, republican, Wisconsin; Means, republican, Colorado; Odell, republican, Nevada; Overman, democrat, North Carolina; Pennington, republican, Pennsylvania; Shortridge, republican, California; Smith, democrat, South Carolina; Smoot, republican, Utah; Stanford, republican, Oregon; Wadsworth, republican, New York; Watson, republican, Indiana; Weller, republican, Maryland; and Willis, republican, Ohio.

SMITH POLES 100,000 MAJORITY.

(By Leased Wire to The Constitution and The Chicago Tribune.)

Chicago, April 14.—Frank L. Smith swept Illinois for the republican nomination for United States senator in Tuesday's primary by a plurality of slightly under 100,000. He defeated United States Senator William B. McKinley both downstate and in Chicago in the biggest vote ever polled in an Illinois state primary in an "off year."

Having gone through an intense fight on the world court issue, Illinois is now in for a more spectacular battle over the wet and dry issue. Smith defeated McKinley chiefly on the world court question. In the election campaign he will battle another adversary, George E. Brennan, democratic nominee on the modification or repeal of the Volstead law.

Brennan is an avowed wet. Smith is a dry. In the primary campaign Smith had the endorsement of the Anti-Saloon league. So the stage is set for a real test of public sentiment in Illinois. National attention will be focused on Illinois until the result of the November election is known, what attitude the hundreds of thousands of wet independents and republicans take will decide the winner between Brennan and Smith.

Atlanta's "Up and Going" ROCHESTER MAN PRAISES BIG ADVERTISING CAMPAIGN Spirit Impresses North

Atlanta's national advertising campaign, following the exhaustive industrial survey of the city by Lamar Lyndon for the industrial bureau of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce, so impressed the chamber of commerce of Rochester, N. Y., that it sent a representative here to see if industrial development is as "up and coming" as it appeared.

John F. Clark, industrial engineer for the Rochester Gas and Electric corporation and a member of the industrial committee of the city's trade body, spent several hours Wednesday at the chamber of commerce and in a tour of the local manufacturing district.

"That first big advertisement in the Saturday Evening Post struck me right between the eyes. I'm glad to see Atlanta talking up loud."

"There is a belt through this section, not too far south, not too far north, with the right climate conditions which is certainly going to be the scene of America's greatest development within the next 15 years," Mr. Clark said. "I believe that Atlanta, with her location, the start she has and the fine spirit of her citizens seem to possess, is going to be the very center of this big industrial progress."

"Up in Rochester we have studied the industrial survey of Atlanta made in the fall of 1924 by Lamar Lyndon, consulting engineer of New York, when Paul Norcross was president of your chamber of commerce. It is the most complete and informative survey of an American city I have ever seen."

Mr. Clark expects to pay a visit to High Point, N. C., the rapidly growing furniture manufacturing section of the south, and Charlotte, N. C., for a look at the textile industry, before going home to Rochester.

QUIET SESSION OF POLICE BOARD HELD WEDNESDAY

Exonerated of Patrolman W. G. Scott on charges of "conduct unbecoming an officer" and discontinuance of the school of instruction for the present featured a meeting Wednesday night of the police committee of city council.

Scott was arraigned on charges growing out of alleged negligence of duty in failure to arrest a man who was said to have possessed a quantity of liquor. This occurred several weeks ago. The officer was freed when tried in recorder's court.

In directing that the instruction school be temporarily discontinued, the board ordered Acting Chief of Police E. L. Jett to direct training of supernumeraries and new men.

Trial of L. F. Alford, who is alleged to have shot at a group of boys congregated on Marietta street, was postponed pending final outcome of his trial in Fulton superior court, in which he was sentenced to serve 12 months on the gang. Since that time this sentence has been changed to a fine of $100, according to information given committeemen.

MAN MURDERS WIFE, COMMITTS SUICIDE

Blairsville, Pa., April 14.—(AP)—Raymond College, 23, killed his wife, Lillian, 21, with a hammer in their home at Cokeville late last night and then shot himself to death.

Letters found in the house indicated that College was despondent because of illness. He wrote "Lillian has said she was going to kill me, so I done it."

Discontinuance of Florida Train

Effective first train leaving Atlanta Sunday, April 18, southbound, and from Jacksonville, Monday, April 19, northbound, the DIXIE EXPRESS, trains 96 and 97, will be discontinued. Effective same dates, the DIXIE FLYER trains 94 and 95 will be equipped to handle coach passengers. There will be no change in its schedule between Atlanta and Jacksonville, both north and southbound.

SALMON SANDWICH OR SALAD

A tempting, wholesome, satisfying Noontime Lunch—especially healthful during the warmer days

LEADING lunch rooms, hotels, restaurants, cafeterias and sandwich shops are now featuring Pink SALMON, the "King of Food Fish", in many appetizing ways. Buy a can of Pink SALMON at any grocer's and try these tested recipes in your home:

PINK SALMON SANDWICHES
Found can of Pink SALMON. Season to taste with mayonnaise or salad dressing. Add chopped pickle, minced olive or hard boiled egg. Spread on thin slices of bread, cut into desired shapes and garnish.
(A pound can will make 12 large or 24 small sandwiches)

Canned SALMON, thoroughly cooked, is delicious served cold just as it comes from the can. Season to taste, with salt, pepper, a little vinegar or lemon juice and serve with crisp rolls, bread and butter or crackers. A pound can serves four persons.

NOTE: Canned Pink SALMON for many reasons is actually better than the fresh. Caught in countless millions in the cold waters of the North Pacific ocean, this wonderful sea food is packed in the nearest canneries, immediately cleaned, washed in pure, fresh running water, cut to size and packed in the cans all by machinery—and then thoroughly cooked in great steam retorts. All the natural flavor, the rich oils and the precious iodine content of the salmon is sealed in. It keeps indefinitely until opened.

$1,000.00 IN CASH PRIZES

You may have a choice recipe that could win the FIRST PRIZE of $500 offered in our present great national contest for good ways to serve canned Pink SALMON. Send in 100 words or more describing your recipe. It should be original, and it should be a new one. We would like to know total cost of preparing dish. Kindly indicate brand of Pink SALMON you prefer, and if convenient send label. Contest closes August 31, 1926.

BOARD CONSIDERS CYANAMIDE FIRM BID FOR SHOALS

Washington, April 14.—(AP)—The joint House-Senate committee on the joint resolution to acquire the Shoals, Ala., has today in executive session considering the bid for a fifty-year lease of the property made by the American Cyanamide company. While the committee has no statement it is known they reached no conclusions. The staff of technical advisers met with the committee and furnished a digest of the offer. A similar course will be followed by all of the bids which the committee will consider. The committee will not make public any of the bids until a formal report is made to congress on April 26.

R. BANKS STEPHENS DIES AT FORSYTH

Forsyth, Ga., April 14.—(Special). R. Banks Stephens, 68, president of the Bank of Forsyth and one of the most prominent citizens of Forsyth and Monroe county and one of the best known men in middle Georgia, died tonight at 7 o'clock, after an illness of several months.

He is survived by his widow, two sons, Lem B. and John T. Stephens, of Forsyth; three daughters, Mrs. Hugh Worsam and Mrs. Lewis Zellner, of Forsyth, and Mrs. Norman Peacock, of Barnesville.

Mr. Stephens took an active interest in all civic affairs of the county and was especially interested in promoting its agricultural interests and was one of the prime movers of the fair each fall.

In 1895 he organized the Bank of Forsyth and continued as its president until his death. He was born in this county.

He was a liberal contributor to Besse Tift college, and the Banks Stephens institute, named in his honor. For several years he was ordinary of the county.

The funeral will be held here on Friday morning at 10:30 o'clock, at the First Baptist church.

Two Negroes Are Held In Tampa in Connection With Georgian's Death

Tampa, Fla., April 14.—Two negroes are being held without bond as material witnesses, while authorities search for the slayer of William H. Tyre, 41, of Brewton, Ga., construction foreman on the Seaboard Air Line railroad, who was shot Tuesday night as he was leaving his car in the railroad yards here to break up a dice game among negro workmen.

Jim Bell, negro who was accused by Tyre of firing the shots, is still in custody. A negro arrested shortly after the killing at Plant City was thought to have been Bell but it was learned later that his name was Pervious Blufford, who happened to have Bell's railroad pass in his pocket. Blufford and Perry Saxon are being held.

28th Victim Found.

Port Arthur, Texas, April 14.—(AP) The body of the 28th victim of the explosion aboard the tanker Gulf of Venezuela early Sunday morning, found floating this afternoon near the scene of the disaster, has been identified as that of R. Tweedie, first assistant engineer of the craft. One supposed victim of the crash is still missing. He is thought to be J. G. Potts, wiper.

Two Aviators Killed in Jump From Airplane

Richmond, Va., April 14.—(AP)—Neil W. Abbott, of Rochester, N. Y., and Clarence W. Mix, of Durant, Mich., attached to the marine base at Quantico, Va., were killed in an airplane crash near King and Queen courthouses today.

The men were enroute from Quantico to Langley Field, Va. The cause of the accident could not be determined just after the plane fell and burst into flames. Abbott and Mix, the undertaker who took charge of their bodies declared, apparently jumped before the plane crashed to the ground but their parachutes failed to open. Abbott was a first sergeant of marines and Mix was master mechanical sergeant. Both had been in the service nine years. Officials at Quantico were notified of the mishap by newspapermen here.

WOMAN SHOTS MAN FOR ATTACK ON HER DAUGHTER

Globe, Ariz., April 14.—(AP)—Mrs. Mand Edmunds today shot and killed Alfred Goodenstein for an alleged attack upon her 11-year-old daughter. She then surrendered to the sheriff.

Mrs. Edmunds related that when she forced Goodenstein with a rifle to admit the attack on her daughter, he taunted her with the remark: "What are you going to do about it?"

He threw open his shirt, the woman said, and dared her to shoot. "I then fired," Mrs. Edmunds added.

The alleged attack occurred at the Edmunds home last night, the woman said.

Skaggs Is Re-elected Head of Southeastern Express Company

Birmingham, Ala., April 14.—(AP)—J. E. Skaggs, of Atlanta, was re-elected president of the Southeastern Express company today at a meeting of directors in the Birmingham office of the company. Other officers re-elected were Sanders McDaniel, vice president and general counsel, and P. W. Woods, secretary-treasurer.

The directors' meeting followed immediately the fifth annual meeting of the stockholders at which the following directors were re-elected: R. A. Brown, of Birmingham; H. C. Armstrong, of Selma; Z. C. Patton, Jr., of Chattanooga; J. L. Graham, of Winston-Salem, N. C.; and R. F. Maddox, Sanders McDaniel and J. E. Skaggs, all of Atlanta.

Satisfaction with the showing of the company during 1925 was expressed by stockholders at the meeting.

NATIONAL PARKS IN EAST FAVORED

Washington, April 14.—(AP)—Establishment of the first two extensive national parks in the east was provided for in a bill introduced in the house today by Representative H. W. Temple, republican, Pennsylvania, following receipt of a report transmitted to the house and senate by Secretary Work favoring that action.

Secretary Work's decision was based on a report by the Appalachian Park commission which he had appointed to consider the whole matter. The proposed parks are the Shenandoah, to be located in Virginia along the crest of the Blue Ridge mountains south of Front Royal and the Smoky mountain national park, along the boundary of the state of North Carolina and Tennessee. The combined area of the two parks will be a little less than 2,000 square miles; the Shenandoah park comprising about 1,100 and the Shenandoah a little less than 900 square miles.

The proposal to establish a third national park comprising territory within which is located the Mammoth Cave, of Kentucky, and to be known as the Mammoth Cave National park, was favored by the Appalachian park commission but was disapproved by Secretary Work, who while reserving his opinion of the desirability of the park, stated that the area thus far was not sufficient for such a purpose. Secretary Work and the commission agreed that no other national park in the southern Appalachian region was desirable at this time.

Favorable consideration of the Shenandoah and Smoky mountain parks was based on the report of the Appalachian park commission that $1,200,000 had been raised toward the purchase of land for the Shenandoah and $1,000,000 for the Smoky mountain park. In that report it was stated "as the Great Smoky Mountains Conservation Association of Tennessee and the Great Smoky Mountains, Inc. of North Carolina, jointly, and the Shenandoah National Park Association, Inc., have complied with the requirements submitted to them by your commission, we therefore, recommend that the two areas designated be made national parks and administered as such areas in the future."

COOLIDGE APPROVES ENFORCEMENT FUND

Washington, April 14.—(AP)—A $3,000,000 additional appropriation for prohibition enforcement next year, to take care of the Secretary Andrews' reorganization program, was approved today by President Coolidge. This would supplement the $11,000,000 already voted by congress for next year. In addition about $100,000 also has been appropriated for the coast guard, which is defending the borders from smugglers.

The $3,000,000 would be used principally in meeting the cost of additional forces which Mr. Andrews proposes to employ on the border patrol and in the specialized squads which he has recently organized.

CLEAN-UP CAMPAIGN ON IN BAINBRIDGE

Bainbridge, Ga., April 14.—(Special).—Effort to clean up Bainbridge is on here in full force with much painting and repairing going on in the residential section of the city. With several new houses being completed and the numerous dogwood trees in beautiful blossom, the city as a whole is looking very fresh and smart.

ASSEMBLY STOPS ITS EXTRA SESSION

lateral roads to pay for work on state highways which should rightfully be defrayed by the state itself.

Harrell's Motion Lost.

In the senate a motion by Senator Harrell for reconsideration of the classification tax bill, defeated on Tuesday, was outvoted. The third effort in two days to have the bill providing for placing motor bus lines under control of the Georgia public service commission, taken from the table, was also defeated by vote of 23 to 6.

Supporters, in the house, of senate bill for allocation of county gas tax moneys to the highway department, pointed out that at present counties are paying their gas tax to the highway department, and that the bill merely would legalize such procedure and enable the state treasury to pay the funds to the department without having first to transmit the funds to the counties.

Representative Wilhoit, of Warren, introduced an amendment to provide that such contracts could not be made for a period longer than four years.

The bill was presented to the house by a committee substitute and when the vote was put on the amendment, the amendment was adopted 83 votes to 66. The house then voted to accept the bill by substitute by a vote of 67 to 66, with Speaker Neill casting the deciding vote, and then promptly killed the bill by voting overwhelmingly not to agree to the report of the committee which recommended that the measure pass. The vote was 87 against the report and 56 for it.

Invite President Coolidge.

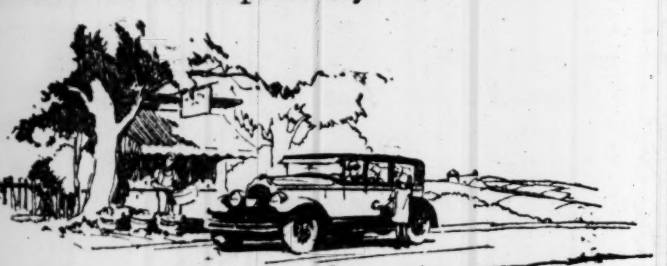

In a resolution adopted unanimously by the upper branch, President Coolidge was urged to accept the invitation extended him by Governor Walker and Mayor Sims to attend a national convention of the Disabled American Veterans to be held in Atlanta in June.

Action on another resolution introduced by Senator Feebles, of the eighth district, proposing appointment by the governor of a commission of twelve members—four each from the senate and house and four citizens—for the purpose of studying the laws of Georgia in their relation to domestic and foreign corporations, and to recommend any changes deemed advisable, was indefinitely postponed on motion of Senator Knight of the sixth district.

The senate then passed a deficiency appropriation house bill providing a sum of $15,000 to go to the general printing fund for 1926, and without debate passed a smaller appropriation bill making available funds for paying the salary increase of the assistant commissioner of commerce and labor for August and December, 1925.

EIGHTY MILES PER HOUR CHRYSLER IMPERIAL "80" PERFORMANCE SUPREME

To describe the new Chrysler Imperial "80" in terms of speed—and it is easily capable of eighty miles, and more per hour—would fail to do full justice to the sum total of its new luxury and finality of performance. Eighty miles an hour is the label of a new conception of virtually limitless power—power which moves the Imperial "80" with inconceivable smoothness and ease from a snail's pace to cannon ball speed. And always, at any gait, without strain, fatigue or discomfort. The Imperial "80" is a marked contrast in superiority to even the finest you may have known. And Chrysler quality gives the completest assurance of the year after year maintenance of its superiority.

State College of Agriculture is endangered by this action of the house. A serious depletion of funds has occurred in many counties. It is claimed, as a result of the supreme court ruling that a tax levy for education cannot include property lying within an independent school system.

It is declared that a majority of these counties will have to economize in their educational programs and that most of them will be forced to discontinue the county demonstration agents who, it is claimed, are doing some of the most important work for the prosperity of the state.

Just before adjournment Wednesday the house heard an invitation, extended through Representatives Linder, of Jeff Davis, and Cooper, of Telfair, to attend the opening dedicatory services of a new bridge over the Ocmulgee river at Lumber City on April 22.

The house unanimously adopted a resolution, introduced by Representative Wilhoit, of Warren, condemning an effort being made to collect funds from Confederate veterans in Georgia to make up a purse for Dr. C. L. Moore, of Atlanta, in recognition of his activity in behalf of the pension bill, passed unanimously by both houses at this session.

The resolution quotes a letter which has been sent to all county ordinaries and styles it as "an aspersion upon its deliberations or motives in passing the pension measure." The resolution reads as follows:

"Whereas, the following printed circular has been sent to the several ordinaries of the state:

"To the Ordinary: The Confederate pensioners of the state of Georgia will not receive their back pensions, an amount due them by the state for several years past.

"Dr. C. L. Moore, of Atlanta, himself a Confederate veteran, is mainly responsible for this payment, on account of his persistent activity amongst the members of the legislature in your county receives this pension voluntarily to aid his fellow comrades.

"Dr. Moore is not a rich man and as a slight token of appreciation we, a committee of his comrades, are making him up a purse without his knowledge or consent. When each pensioner in your county receives this back pension will you please tell them

Station To Station Toll Service Is Quicker and Cheaper

STATION-TO-STATION long distance telephone service is becoming more popular as telephone users understand how simple it is to make calls of this kind.

To make a station-to-station call you do not ask for a particular person. You merely tell the operator that you wish to be connected with a certain telephone at the distant point.

The call can be completed even if you do not know the number of the telephone you are calling. You can ask to be connected with the telephone in Mr. Blank's residence or with the telephone in the office of Jones & Company.

These calls can be handled quickly and at a lower rate because the operator does not have to locate a particular party. She merely connects you with the distant telephone and the charge begins when the called telephone answers.

Try this service when making social or business calls. You will be surprised how quickly you get your party, and the small cost will please you.

The Manager's office will gladly give you detailed information about all classes of long distance calls.

For the Small Family

This modern age has produced new standards of living and even fruit and vegetable canners have fallen in line with the times. Today, much more so than yesterday, are small families in vogue and to meet the requirements of this important class of the consuming public many vegetables and fruits are put up in number one cans, a size just suited to newly married couples and small families. There is much economy in using a number one can, for it holds just enough for the small family, prevents waste and avoids left-overs. If yours is a small family take advantage of this convenient way of packing and instead of buying a big can lay in a stock of smaller ones.

Bussey Named President Of Shoe Dealers of Dixie

With the election of George Bussey, of Macon, as president for the ensuing year and selection of Macon as the city in which to hold the convention in 1927, the eighth annual convention of the Southeastern Shoe Retailers' association came to an end at the Ansley hotel Wednesday.

Addresses by Charles Brady, Irving Edison, S. D. Tanner and J. O. Steele were features of the last business session of the convention. After these addresses, an open forum was held in which visiting dealers and salesmen praised Atlanta for the hospitality extended to the convention and pronounced the gathering the most successful ever held by the association.

Other officers elected Wednesday were first vice president, W. E. Shine, Birmingham; second vice president, Charles Scruggs, Spartanburg, S. C.; third vice president, George P. Golden, Jacksonville, Fla.; fourth vice president, J. E. Martin, Atlanta; treasurer, Frank Stevens, Atlanta.

Directors Named.

Directors for Georgia were named as follows: Werner S. Byck, Atlanta; Joseph Erlich, Albany; S. L. Saxon, Augusta; J. O. Steele, Atlanta; M. M. Smith, Savannah; Horace Henry, Macon; Walter Miller, Columbus; Louis Funkenstein, Athens, and Turner Jones, Valdosta. For Florida the following were named as directors: Tom Crittenden, West Palm Beach; Robert Glenn, Tampa, and M. Nankin, Miami. Directors for South Carolina named were Henry Schaffer, Columbia; George Bird, Greenwood; R. W. Bruce, Greenville; Mat Condon, Charleston, and M. Miller, Florence. For Alabama, directors were named as follows: John Helton, Troy; Nick Jones, Montgomery; Herman Rich, Birmingham; John Dammick, Mobile, and Ben Hineberg, Birmingham.

Many of the shoe salesmen who brought their new lines from the factories to Atlanta will remain here throughout the week continuing their displays at the Piedmont and Ansley hotels.

Thanks of the convention were returned to J. O. Steele, former president of the association, and the Atlanta reception committee for the hospitality shown visitors.

Permanent Exhibit Move. Because of the success of the Atlanta shoe style show, a movement was launched to establish permanent headquarters of the convention in Atlanta, but the Atlanta members gave way to Macon and supported that city for the convention next year. After the Macon convention, a movement will be launched to bring the style show to Atlanta as an annual event.

Committees were named at the last session of the convention as follows: Resolutions, M. Nankin, Miami, chairman; George Bussey, Ben Hineberg, Charles Scruggs, Turner Jones, Everett B. Terhune, Boston, and E. C. Bowen, Chicago, nominating committee; George Bussey, chairman, Ormond Weil, Savannah, Lacy Law, Atlanta, Charles Caldwell, Atlanta, Ed Spartenburg, S. C., Mr. Shine was Birmingham and Charles Scruggs, Spartanburg, S. C. W. E. Shine was named chairman of the finance committee. Officers of the association named Wednesday made short talks in which they pledged their best efforts to make the convention in Macon next year a success.

FERGUSON HEADS DECATUR SCHOOLS

Decatur, Ga., April 14.—(Special.) Professor Lamar Ferguson, principal of the Decatur high school, was last night unanimously elected superintendent of the Decatur school system by the city board of education to succeed Professor G. W. Glausier, resigned.

Professor Ferguson came to Decatur from the Lavonia schools one year ago and has made an enviable record at Decatur high. He will take charge with the closing of the 1926 term.

It is stated Professor Glausier, who has been head of the schools for several years, will continue to live in Decatur and will engage in educational work.

Membership Drive Will Be Continued By Woman's Division

Marked progress in the membership drive of the woman's division of the chamber of commerce was reported at a meeting of the leaders, team captains and workers Wednesday night at a dinner in the Daffodil Tea room, by Miss Lois Manning, chairman of the membership committee. She stated that the drive will be continued one week longer than it was first anticipated and the regular monthly meeting will be postponed until Tuesday night April 27, when the drive will close with a big dinner for workers and new members.

Reports of all the committees, sections and teams were read Wednesday night and showed good results, according to Miss Manning, and with the additional week in which to continue the work, it is expected that many more new members will be added to the list.

Miss Susie C. Wailes, president of the woman's division, stated that results were gratifying and leaders were pleased with the work of the various teams.

In the reports the team headed by Miss Bessie Bragassa, is leading in new members, while the section headed by Mrs. May Goodwin Thorpe is ahead with new members. Miss Bragassa and Mrs. Thorpe are tied for first place honors in the drive, it was stated.

Prizes will be awarded to the section leader, the team captain, and individuals in the winning section.

Darlington School Holds Founders' Day; Rites for Mrs. Moore

Constitution Bureau. Rome, Ga., March 14.—(Special.) Founders' day, an annual event at Darlington School for Boys, will be celebrated Friday morning with a splendid program, which includes an address by Dr. George Pritchett, dean of the Alabama Polytechnic institute, Auburn, Ala.

The program will begin at 10 o'clock. An inspection of the class rooms, where the work of the students will be on exhibition will open the exercises. A number of the students will make short talks.

The exercises will be simple, but impressive, and all persons and friends of Darlington school are invited, the faculty announces.

Rites for Mrs. Moore. Rome, Ga., April 14.—(Special.) Funeral services for Mrs. Ellen Hagin Moore, who died at a local hospital following a brief illness, were held Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock from the First Methodist church.

Mrs. Moore's death was a shock to her many Rome friends. She was the younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Hagin, prominent citizens of this city. For two years she was a member of the fourth ward school faculty and was much beloved. She is survived by her parents; husband, Fred H. Moore; one sister, Mrs. Rufus Daniel.

Auto Injures Boy. Rome, Ga., April 14.—(Special.) David Hicks, 10 son of P. A. Hicks, of North Rome, was severely injured yesterday on Calhoun avenue when he was run over by an automobile driven by a man who never stopped, but on looking back speeded up his car. The boy's left leg was badly fractured and he was otherwise painfully hurt.

The boy was pushing a wagon in the street. Witnesses said the driver of the automobile appeared to be drunk and barely missed striking other people in the street.

Chamber Campaign On. Rome, Ga., April 14.—(Special.) Reports of the "Yellow Jacket" and "Wildcat" divisions of the chamber of commerce enrollment campaign reported 218 members at the close of the first day. The campaign began Tuesday afternoon.

Although no definite goal has been set for this year, the number obtained the first day is more than half as many as the total membership of last year.

The workers met with the Kiwanis club at luncheon yesterday and listened to inspiring addresses by James A. McFarland, mayor of Dalton and former national commander of Disabled Veterans of the World War, Dr. J. W. Ham, of Atlanta, and Frank Sims, Jr., president of the Dalton Junior Chamber of Commerce. T. E. Edwards, commanding general of the enrollment campaign, presided.

Woman in Orlando

Orlando, Fla., April 14.—(P.) Officials of Winter Park investigating the reported robbery of the winter home and person of Mrs. William Courson, of Winter Park, Fla., and Marietta, Ga., tonight declined to discuss their activities in the case other than to say they were working on the case. Mr. Courson was called over the phone also declined to discuss the matter except to say that his wife had reported the robbery correctly with the exception of the value of the stones taken from her and which he bought back from the robbers.

H stated that the stones were valuable but that they did not run into several thousand dollars. He said that he paid the robbers more for the stones than they were worth because his wife had a sentimental attachment for them.

Mrs. Courson, who before her marriage to Mr. Courson, was the widow of the late Josiah Mearns, of the New York superior court, reported the robbery to the Orlando Morning Sentinel yesterday. That was the first public notice of the affair. She said that masked men entered their house Sunday night and robbed them and agreed with her husband returned Monday and sold the jewels to him, who gave them time to make their escape.

Sisters in Follies Are Given Engagements in New York

When Ned Wayburn, famous New York revue impresario and teacher of stage art and dancing, likewise producer of the Junior League "Follies," now showing at the Atlanta theater, goes back to New York Saturday he will take with him Mary Grace and Kathleen Hogan. These Atlanta sisters, locally famous for their dancing, have so impressed Mr. Wayburn that he already has given them engagements with one of his principal New York productions and also has given each a year's scholarship in his nationally famous school of stage dancing.

The Hogan girls will go to New York at an early date, accompanied by their mother, Mrs. J. A. Hogan, of 71 West Peachtree street.

The Hogan sisters, 15 and 16 years of age, possess the greatest amount of natural dancing and stage talent of any girls of their age he has seen.

Mr. Wayburn said, and he declares that he wants to give them these engagements and scholarships as part of his life's ambition to help to stardom the brightest and best of future generations of theatrical stars who are fated to twinkle in the lights of old Broadway.

At Follies Tonight. Tonight the Hogan sisters will appear at the performance of the "Follies," now showing at the Atlanta theater, in dancing specialties between acts, and Atlanta thus will be given what will probably be Atlanta's last chance to see them perform before they go to New York.

These Hogan girls are among the best-known dancers in Atlanta and have appeared at many local entertainments, always showing remarkable professional perfection in their dancing. Also, they both possess delightful voices.

The "Follies," with a cast composed of the brightest social lights among Atlanta's younger set, goes on its scintillating way at the Atlanta theater, each night accentuating the recognition accorded the opening night as the most brilliant theatrical event of the season, professional or otherwise.

With charming singers, clever comedy and gorgeous stage settings, the 1926 edition of the "Follies" sets a new precedent for elaborate and artistic stage production in Atlanta.

Atlanta Girls Star. The greatest glory of the show, however—great even as the other factors are—lies in the group of Atlanta's leading society girls who make up the chorus. There are over 30 of them, and surely never has any stage witnessed such a gorgeous gathering of feminine beauty as they make. It is certain that no stage ever has witnessed a chorus which knew better how to wear the marvelous costumes which have been provided for them.

They dance and sing and behave with professional aplomb, added to entertainment, always showing remarkable amateur skill which only the beginner or amateur can bring to such work.

Wednesday night was "college night," and the audience which packed the theater added greatly to the zest and sparkle of the performance through the youth and beauty that shone from the other side of the footlights, as well as upon the stage. The "Follies" will be shown at the Atlanta theater every night this week, with a matinee on Saturday. Then, for a long 51 weeks, Atlanta will have to wait with what patience it can muster for the 1927 edition, which cannot, however, be any more brilliant than the current presentation.

GRAND JURY TO PROBE JERSEY ELECTION FRAUD

Jersey City, N. J., April 14.—(P.) Charges of "gross frauds" in the general election last November 3, made public today by Thomas McDonald, superintendent of the Hudson county bureau of elections, will be presented to the grand jury Friday. County Prosecutor Milton announced.

A. Harry Moore, Hudson democrat, was elected governor over Arthur Whitney, of Mendham, by a plurality of 38,000. Governor Moore's Hudson county plurality was 103,000.

The statement by Mr. McDonald, who is also republican county chairman, was made in reply to criticisms that his bureau had not taken cognizance of rumors of registration and election frauds in Jersey City.

Mrs. Alonzo Richardson Opposes Upshaw Bill For Film Censorship

Atlanta Defends Will Hays, Declaring More Sin Committed in Dance Halls Than in Movies.

Washington, April 14.—(Special.)—Federal censorship was urged as necessary "to keep the motion picture business from becoming a national curse" by Representative Upshaw, of Georgia, who attacked Will H. Hays, czar of the movies, in appearing before the house education committee which began consideration Wednesday of his bill for federal censorship.

Mrs. Alonzo Richardson, representing the Atlanta Better Film committee, on the other hand, opposed any federal censorship, and defended Hays from attack. She contended that present censorship by cities and states was sufficient, and that it was unnecessary to set up a federal commission to censor pictures, as proposed by Upshaw.

This federal commission, which would be composed of six members, and would pass on all films released for distribution.

Upshaw Attacks Hays.

"Will Hays has done all I suppose that the devil of monopoly would let him do," Upshaw said. "In other words, he was called from his high position as an ally for the movie monopoly and lobby for the convenience of decent, God-fearing America."

"If Mr. Hays tells us that we simply have no idea of how many bad pictures he has kept off the screen, we reply that we do not know how many bad ones he has allowed to go on the screen."

Defending Hays, Mrs. Richardson said that he refused to stand for immorality in pictures.

She said that more sin is committed in dance halls than on the moving picture screen, referring to immorality displayed at public "Charleston contests."

Censorship bills, she said, are "laughable and absurd" and would "cause an additional burden on the tax payers of the nation."

Love Scenes in Movies.

The argument that "love scenes" have a bad effect on young boys and girls was scouted by Mrs. Richardson. Telling a personal experience, she said she made no objection to a "fervid scene" in a recent picture upon which she had passed.

"The girls simply marvel at the clean manner in which the hero showed his love for the heroine," she said. Upshaw said his bill is one "of constructive friendship" for the motion picture business.

"It is a bill not for meticulous and make-up censorship of pictures already produced but for heavy expense; it is intended rather to purify this great fountain of influence at its source, so as to prevent its poisoning the youth of America."

"It is a bill of ideals and of standards of production. It is intended to make unnecessary the hindering restraints of municipal and state censorship boards that now exist—boards which have been made necessary by the unwholesome character of many movies. If it is objected that federal control is objectionable on the ground of centralization, we answer that motion pictures are interstate and national in their operation, and therefore a federal regulation is required to keep the motion picture business from becoming a national curse instead of a national blessing."

Federal Trade Complaint.

"Five years ago the federal trade commission issued an official complaint against the Famous Players-Lasky corporation, and five other organizations and after four years of searching investigation a report covering 17,000 pages has been issued, setting forth 'unfair and monopolistic methods in operating this great monopoly.' With $1,500,000,000 invested, with annual admissions amounting to $1,000,000,000, with 20,000 theaters and a daily attendance of 20,000,000—three-fourths of them young people, and with many screens reeking with social rottenness and flashing defiance to every decent law of God and man, only the strong arm of the federal government can cope with this colossal menace to the ideals and the morals of the homes and the youth of the nation."

"Let me remind you in conclusion what I said in the beginning—that this bill is one of constructive and protective friendship for the motion picture business. I am a movie fan. I count the motion picture one of the most marvelous productions of genius the world has ever seen. It should be used only for clean entertainment and educational, patriotic, moral and spiritual uplift."

And no man or corporation, producer or distributor, is going to object to a bill of lofty standards like this except a somebody who wants to produce and distribute unclean and degrading pictures. The motion picture business should be reminded also that it does not have to appeal to tastes and passions that are described by the Bible as 'sensual and devilish' in order to win success. The greatest runs that have ever been thrown on the screen have been pictures whose very purity and loftiness of concept constituted their chief fascination."

DISTRICTS CHOOSE ORATORS FOR MEET

Winners in the state oratorical contest in Georgia have been selected in nine of the districts. The other three will be selected on April 22. Contests were held in nine districts last week. The winners who will represent their districts and schools in the state contest at the state capitol are:

First district, Sidney Lanier, of Millen; third district, Furman Smith, of Fitzgerald; fifth district, Young Gillespie, of Decatur; sixth district, Miss Elmer Burnett, of Thomaston; seventh district, Miss Sybil Cowart, of Marietta; eighth district, Miss Anna Crab, of Athens; ninth district, Oliver C. Pittman, of Commerce; tenth district, Joseph A. Mul-larky, of Richmond academy, Augusta; twelfth district, Miss Ruth Roundtree, of Summit.

These contestants will speak on May 7 in Atlanta to decide who will go to the zone contest in Kansas City. The winner of the zone contest will go to Washington and later take a two-months' trip through Europe, speaking in London, Paris and Berlin. The winner of the Washington contest will compete next October with the winners in the English, French, German, Mexican and Canadian contests. These foreign contestants will be given a tour of America. It is hoped that the Georgia contestants, says an official announcement, will put forth every effort to improve their delivery during the next three or four weeks. The oration counts 50 per cent and the delivery 50 per cent.

NOTABLES TO ADDRESS GEORGIA ASSOCIATION

Chester W. Ambler, advertising manager of The Country Gentleman, of Philadelphia, will be one of the principal speakers at the annual meeting of the Georgia association which will be held at the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce, May 6, according to announcement Wednesday by F. H. Abbott, secretary of the association.

Dr. A. M. Soule, of the Georgia State College of Agriculture also will speak and Mrs. S. C. Townsend, of St. Marys, will discuss the state-wide campaign of the association.

The effect of Douglas, Ga., president of the Georgia association, will be honor guest and will preside. Coming from a nationally known magazine Mr. Ambler and his staff of experts who have been doing research work in rural communities of the country, will tell of their experiences.

"Always in Trouble" Will Be Presented By Church Players

The annual play by the young people's dramatic group of the Central Congregational church this year is to be the farce, "Always in Trouble," and will be presented Friday night, in the social hall in the basement of the church. The cast, under direction of W. S. Smith, has been rehearsing for more than a month and a spirited, touch-and-go performance is expected.

In the cast are Misses Frances Noble, Mary Keyes, Emaline Sikes, Mrs. Dorothy Jeffords, and J. W. Walker, E. P. Sutton, J. S. Mahaffey, R. A. White and W. S. Smith.

Baracas Visit Savannah.

Plans for the annual state convention of Baracas and Philathea classes in Savannah, Ga., have been completed, it was announced Wednesday. Interesting programs will feature the three-day meeting, according to those in charge. "Nationally known" speakers will attend and other features, including a sightseeing trip to Tybee, have been planned.

DIXON CANDIDATE FOR STATE OFFICE

Senator James A. Dixon, president pro tem. of the senate, Wednesday announced his candidacy for attorney general of Georgia at the coming primaries. He stated that he would issue a formal statement regarding his platform in the next few days.

Senator Dixon will oppose Attorney General George M. Napier, who is an announced candidate for re-election. Senator Dixon's home is in Millen, his district being the seventeenth. In addition to his duties as president pro tem, he served in the senate as chairman of the constitutional amendments committee and was a member of other committees, including agriculture, appropriations, game and fish, general judiciary No. 1, highways, insurance, pensions, rules, special judiciary, uniform laws and Western and Atlantic railroad.

South's Safest Place Is on Southern Train, Say Officers of Road

"The safest place in the south is on the trains of the Southern," says a statement issued by the safety department of the road, pointing out that during 1925 the Southern maintained its excellent record for transporting passengers safely.

"During the year 1925 there were handled on the trains of the Southern Railway System a total of 13,461,537 passengers," says the statement, "and of these the only person to lose his life was an employee, not on duty, who was not riding in the space provided for passengers, but who, nevertheless, must be classed as a passenger under the rules of the interstate commerce commission for reporting accidents."

"The high morale of the men operating the Southern's trains, the excellence of its roadbed, and the use of modern protective devices and all-steel passenger train equipment have combined to produce a situation in which it is literally true that the safest place in the south is on the trains of the Southern."

W. O. FOOTE SPEAKS AT CITY CLUB MEET

Walter O. Foote, president of the Foote & Davies Co. and former president of the United Typothetae of America, will be principal speaker at the City club luncheon today at 12:30 o'clock at the Piedmont hotel. Mr. Foote's subject will be "Union Labor and the Open Shop."

Eugene Dodd Better.

Eugene Dodd, prominent Atlanta attorney, who has been in St. Joseph's infirmary for several days, was reported considerably improved Wednesday by hospital attendants. Mr. Dodd was taken to the hospital for an operation.

Lovely! not a Pimple

"Oh, what a beautiful skin! Not a pimple—not a blemish. Perfectly rounded shoulders and a Venus-like back! No wonder she's popular."

"If I could only get rid of these ugly pimples, my skin would be clear and soft and dimpling, like hers—maybe people would call me lovely, too."

You're right! The only thing that mars your beauty are these unsightly skin blemishes. Clear them away and watch eyes full of admiration turn in your direction, wherever you go. "But how can I get rid of them?" you ask. What will drive the wretched things away so they won't come back?

Why, that's just exactly what S. S. S. helps Nature do. It's been clearing away pimples, blackheads and blotches for a century. S. S. S. helps Nature build up the blood to where it's pure and healthy—then these ugly things dry right up. And that's the only way you can keep the skin clear and unblemished. S. S. S. puts the blood back to where it can fight the impurities that get in your system and kills them off before they break out through the skin. You can't stop skin eruptions from the outside. You've got to get down underneath where the trouble is—down in the blood.

Begin taking S. S. S. and watch how quickly you get that skin beauty that belongs to you. S. S. S. will charge your whole system so full of strength building pure, healthy, red blood that you'll be new life and energy.

With the announcement that Asa G. Candler, Jr., will build a new theater to cost $1,000,000 in the rear of the new Macy building, the total amount of money now being spent in Atlanta for theaters reaches close to the $6,000,000 mark, according to estimates Wednesday by real estate men.

One of the new theaters is the new Erlanger being erected on Peachtree street, between Linden and North avenue, by W. F. Winslow, which will be managed by Lewis Hulse, manager of the Atlanta theater.

Koith's vaudeville will occupy a new theater now under construction next to the Henry Grady hotel. A new community theater will be erected at Peachtree and Tenth streets which will make the third theater of this class in Atlanta, the other two being at "Little Five Points" and West End.

The new theater to be erected by Mr. Candler will be leased to the Universal Pictures corporation.

BOOTLEG CHARGE COSTS HALLMAN $1,000 IN COURT

M. C. Hallman, alleged bootlegger, entered a plea of guilty Wednesday before Judge Jesse M. Wood in the criminal court. He was fined $1,000 and sentenced to serve 12 months in the chain-gang, the prison term to be suspended upon payment of the fine.

The fine was paid. The sentence will become operative should Hallman ever come before Judge Wood on a similar charge, the court announced.

Hallman was arrested last July by Lieutenant Frank Jordan and County Policeman Vernon. He was following an automobile chase of several miles. According to officers, 388 quarts of choice brand of whisky bottled in bond was found in the car.

GIRL EDITORS HONOR ADVISOR AT LUNCHEON

Miss Ida Nelson, faculty advisor for Girls' High school publications, will be honored at a luncheon at 1:30 o'clock Saturday at the Henry Grady hotel by members of the staffs of the Girls' High Times and The Halycon.

Short talks on the work of the two publications will be made by Mary Anderson, Edith Walthall, Thyrza Perry, Maria West Rogers, Ardis Colby, Susie Sudderth and Kathryn Harris, all members of the staffs. Several other faculty members will be invited, it is announced.

PLAYCRAFTERS OFFER THREE ONE-ACT PLAYS

The Playcrafters, Atlanta's group of community players, will present three one-act plays Thursday night, April 29, in the auditorium of the Atlanta Woman's club. The affair is sponsored by the West End Woman's club.

Various types of plays have been selected for the performance, which includes "The Big Bass Drum," a play written by Fred Stewart, director of the players; "The Game of Chess," by Kenneth Sawyer Goodman, and "The Three-Promised Bride," a Chinese play.

The group was organized in the fall of 1924 among the Boys' High School Dramatic club.

The membership now includes boys and girls from all parts of the city.

Henry Ford, S. S. Kresge And Others Are Opposed To Change in Prohi Law

Manufacturers Record Prints Opinions of Na- tional Leaders; Govern- ment Accused of Politics

Baltimore, Md., April 14.—Protest against suggested amendment of the Volstead act is contained in letters from national leaders in finance, commerce, industry and the professions, which are published in the Manufacturers Record for this week. "Any thinking person knows that prohibition is a good thing," Henry Ford writes. "The only question is that of enforcement. Enforce the Volstead law and there is no doubt what you will have—no one will have prohibition. Prohibition is a part of the constitution and as such ought to have the benefit of every available enforcement agency."

"We have comparatively little difficulty in enforcing the law among our men. We have proved that it can be enforced."

S. S. Kresge, 10-cent chain store owner, said that "repeal of the 18th amendment or any modification of the Volstead act would be a great calamity."

"We need more stringent laws, making the Volstead act more effective."

Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, pure food specialist, would have the army and navy enlisted in enforcement.

"We have a big navy, with nothing to do but attend dances and functions, and an army that could be stationed along the Canadian and Mexican borders," he said. "They could absolutely bar out any imported liquor if they were turned over to the use of prohibition authorities."

"The new prohibition laws can be enforced any time we get a government that wants to enforce them."

Upton Sinclair, author of "The Great Train Robbery," said that "it is not hard to discern behind the cocktails of the present drive against the Volstead act the guarded and leering countenance of the saloon."

"The return of light wines and beer is not the ultimate purpose of the movement. The real purpose is to bring back the saloon, with the vicious dive that is always found as its handmaiden."

In an editorial, the Manufacturers Record said that the government has "utterly failed" to enforce the law.

"It has played politics without end, and dirty, rotten politics at that. It has put prohibition enforcement largely in the hands of men who do not believe in prohibition and who have utterly failed to enforce prohibition."

Andrews recommends U. S. sale of beer.

drinking hard liquor would be satisfied with beer."

Creates Sensation.

This proposal created a sensation in Washington. House and senate leaders were in many cases reluctant to comment on the effect of this declaration on public sentiment.

"It means the end of Andrews," declared Representative Upshaw, famous Georgia dry.

"We have no comment to make until General Andrews himself clarifies the statement attributed to him by the papers," the Anti-Saloon league said in a statement signed by its national superintendent, F. Scott McBride.

Bishop James Cannon, Jr., of the legislature, said that "the statement of Andrews is a deliberate attempt to mislead the public."

Wheeler, general counsel, said that "the statement of Andrews is a deliberate attempt to mislead the public."

One point the drys want to determine is whether Andrews has white house support for his stand.

Administration Stand.

Some of the leaders of the woman's law enforcement conference here earlier in the week said privately that they had the statement of one important official that the administration is leaning in the direction of modification. There was considerable underground complaint about Andrews and Buckner. Some of the women said that big eastern wet republicans are dominating the administration. Coolidge, since he became president, has never altered his attitude regarding prohibition other than to say the constitution must be upheld.

Drys have desperately opposed such suggestions as Andrews makes because they fear that it will be impossible in practice to keep beverages within the non-intoxicating requirement.

Possible Methods.

Under Andrews' plan, one of two methods would have to be used. Either the prohibition office would have to fit some arbitrary maximum alcoholic content such as 2.75 per cent, and require all beverages distributed with government license to come within it, or else manufacturers would make beer at their own peril and take their chance in jury trials and appeals.

Still, increased taxes on wine and spirits, probably the first course would be more generally acceptable to brewers because they would have

GROVER BERGDOLL FREED BY COURT

Mosbach, Bergamo, April 14.—(AP) Grover C. Bergdoll, the American draft evader, was speedily acquitted today of charges of sedition and impairing the morals of minors after a trial which lasted seven hours before a court composed of one judge and two jurors.

The state's carefully built-up case, after two months' investigation, blew up under the testimony of the psychoanalyst, Professor Hans Grubbe, of the University of Heidelberg, who testified that his examination of a 17-year-old girl, Leisel Schmidt, the chief witness against Bergdoll, convinced him that she was of "subnormal mentality and untrustworthy."

Nervous and with perspiration streaming down his forehead, Bergdoll attacked the private detective, Mosbach, a winner, American, who preferred the charges and who was not present in court.

To the Associated Press correspondent, Bergdoll said: "I am through with Americans. I have lost all respect for Americans, because they have hounded me, and by underhand methods, such as the employment of Sachs, who tried to throw me into jail. But the accounts are not closed. I will file a counter suit for damages and libel against Sachs."

Bergdoll quickly regained his composure amid the congratulations of hundreds of the populace. He then entered a restaurant and ordered a bottle of wine for every policeman and court official, who drank to his health. He proceeded to Karlsruhe by motor.

some fixed standard by which to gauge their product. Otherwise they would be subject to the whim of enforcement officers, and never would know when they were liable to prosecution. In either method of enforcement, many complications would arise and the prohibition law would be more deeply involved in politics than it is now.

Senator Borah attacked modifications in the senate for trying to get something forbidden by the constitution.

Bruce Is Heard.

"Our people are going to have their wines—constitution or no constitution, statute or no statute," Bruce, Maryland, retorted.

"Then the senator is preaching anarchy in the United States," Borah retorted.

He called upon the government to use all of its power to enforce the 18th amendment and asserted the recent testimony of Emory R. Buckner, United States district attorney of the southern New York district.

Buckner uttered "treason" in some of his suggestions, Borah said, adding that some of them would "nullify the very charter under which we live."

Several dry senators violated the senate rules and applauded Borah.

"No one contends that those opposing prohibition have not the right to carry on a campaign to change the constitution," Borah said. "However, as long as the 18th amendment remains a part of the constitution, it is the duty of every citizen to maintain it in letter and in spirit. We are engaged in a great campaign to find a way of evading the constitution without really doing so."

Sits Beside Still.

Andrews gave his testimony sitting beside a 40-gallon still and a quart of corn meal one could make enough alcohol to get drunk. He also described an "Oregon still" for making liquor in camp with a tin still and two bricks as the only utensils.

Learned From Marine.

"I learned that from a marine during the war," Reed explained as the spectators marveled at his knowledge of the moonshine art. "And what a marine doesn't know about making liquor nobody need seek to learn. And I say that with all respect to the marines, for they are good fighters and hard drinkers. That'll be good for you, general, when you get back in the service if you don't have General Smalley Butler around."

"But I understand that method produces a lot of ether," said Andrews.

"But if you age it in the wood a little you get pretty good moonshine, don't you?" Reed inquired.

"No, I understand."

Andrews brought in a subordinate, Charles Williams, who explained the working of the big still in the committee room.

Larger Seizures.

"I think we get most of the larger commercial stills," Andrews said. "Seizures of stills in Georgia, North Carolina, Tennessee and Kentucky are larger probably because there is little diversion of alcohol in those districts."

"When you cut down diversion, stills increase," asked Julian Codman, attorney for the wets.

"Yes."

Williams angered Reed by suggesting that prohibition violators be sent to jail.

"You ought to know," Reed told him sharply, "that sometimes the law can be more criminal than the crime. The law English law that permitted hanging of a man for killing a rabbit was more criminal than the act. Any one who holds a contrary opinion is heartless and is allowing his narrowness to arise to the point of insanity."

Evangelist Ready To Return To Herrin To "Fight Devil"

PASTOR OFFERS SPECIAL PRAYER FOR RESIDENTS

Pensacola, Fla., April 14.—Leading a special prayer service in his tabernacle here Wednesday night for residents of Herrin, where a fresh outbreak of violence has claimed six lives, the Rev. Howard S. Williams, evangelist credited with bringing a truce between warring factions in the little Illinois town, is ready to go back if called to take up "the fight against the devil."

"There can never be enduring peace in Herrin until God and Jesus are taken into the hearts, lives and business of her citizens," Williams said. "I am ready to go back there at any time if my friends there should ever call me to do God's work among them," he declared.

"Naturally I am deeply grieved over the outbreak in Herrin. Last summer I led a great old-time revival there when hundreds were saved through the anti-klan headquarters in the European hotel and when he met the anti-klan leaders known as 'the Shelton boys,' the brothers, Earl, Bernard and Carl Shelton."

The garage is 100 yards down the street from the European hotel and on the opposite side of the street. McCormack had reports that the shooting started soon after the beating administered by Brasher; that a number of the anti-klan members were being fired from inside the garage.

There was an exchange of shots now. The force grew steadily from both sides, and the shooting was according to the mayor, set up a Browning machine gun when he termed a "house of ill fame," also on the opposite side of the street from the Shelton garage and a block and a half away and then the anti-klan poured a steady stream of lead into the garage.

It was estimated that 3,000 shots were fired in the steadily outpouring of lead during three-quarters of an hour.

As the shooting began, Mayor McCormack called State Senator W. J. Sneed, sitting in his office a block up the street, and Sneed called Major Robert W. Davis at Carbondale, who at once got orders from Springfield to proceed to Herrin.

On the way out of Herrin they had to pass the Masonic Temple, and as they reached there, according to the story, John Ford, said to be Exalted Cyclops of the Herrin klan, came out of the building.

One anti-klan said to have been Briggs, leaped from the machine, walked up to Ford shouting "that's the way we want," and fired point-blank at him.

Carrie Guns.

Ford says he doesn't know how Briggs missed. The shooting was so close Ford was badly powder-burned. As they heard the shooting, klansmen rushed out of the polling place in the

SAILOR IS DROWNED IN FLORIDA HARBOR

Tampa, Fla., April 14.—(AP)—Pete Stanley, a sailor on the S. S. Royal Palm, was drowned here tonight in the Hillsborough river when he fell off the gangplank with Walter Barnes, another sailor.

Sailors on the vessel said they were intoxicated, and after Barnes was rescued from the river he was arrested on a charge of being under the influence of liquor. The body of Stanley had not been found tonight.

Auto Is Criticized.

Clarksburg, W. Va., April 14.—(AP) The automobile is the "damnation of this country," declared Federal Judge W. E. Baker in sentencing Pearl Libarger, mother of a three-year-old child, to pay a fine of $100 and ordering confiscated the automobile in which the woman is said to have transported liquor.

Masonic Temple, guns in hand. There was a quick exchange of shots and in a twinkling six were dead.

Harlan Ford, the former chief of the anti-klan, and Ben Sizemore, night watchman, were shot and killed. The two women had been out electioneering with their husbands. The husbands had sensed that trouble was coming and had just told them to go to their homes. They had crossed the street to the church, when the shooting started.

Mrs. Sizemore ran first to her brother-in-law and then to her husband. As she bent over the latter, she cried frantically, "Ben, are you dead?"

He answered, "No, but I'm dying." John Smith, the garage owner who has been such a fervid klansman, had this to say tonight: "Look at my garage. It is like a sieve. I'm through. I want peace. For six years I've fought for law enforcement, but I'm through now. For the last two weeks I've slept up here in my garage with a sheet steel screen around my bed. Yes, I'm tired of it all, and I want peace. They can open up a saloon on both sides of my place if they want to. I won't fight no more."

NEW BLACKMAN HEALTH RESORT THROWN OPEN

Open house was observed Wednesday night when scores of physicians and others inspected the new $250,000 home of the Blackman's Health Resort, at 1824 Peachtree road, which was formally opened to the public.

Dr. W. W. Blackman, president of the board of directors, executive members and others connected with the health resort were hosts at an opening dinner Wednesday night which was attended by many of Atlanta's leading physicians. Music at the formal opening was furnished by the Griffith orchestra.

The new home was beautifully decorated and many friends and former patients sent flowers.

Built of reinforced concrete, the three-story structure is fireproof and one of the most modern buildings in the south. It has 64 bedrooms, each equipped with a bath with hot and cold water at all times.

Equipment in the building cost more than $50,000 and every room has the latest devices used in electrical treatment have been installed.

The organization is headed by Dr. Blackman, who has been connected with the institution for more than 18

Crackers Win From Volunteers, 6 to 5, in 7 en Innings

Cliff Markle Drives In Winning Tally; Fans Last Opponent

Error Puts Haas on First and Paves Way For Atlanta's Victory—Howard Camp Breaks Leg in Slide.

BY RAYMOND JOHNSON.

Nashville, Tenn., April 14.—(Special.)—Cliff Markle may not be a hitter, but he came through with the blow this afternoon that provided transportation for Mule Haas and gave the Crackers a 6-to-5 victory over the Vols in 7 frames.

Markle's timely thump was a clean single to the right-field dump. It followed passes to Haas and Brock. Johnny also tried to score on the hit, but Partridge's brilliant throw got him on a very close play. The game was a very costly one to the Vols. They not only lost it, but they also lost the services of Howard Camp, right fielder, for possibly two months. He fractured a small bone in his left leg sliding into first base in the second inning.

The Crackers started off like wild-fire, but after the first inning Jack Killen set them down without much trouble. His wildness allowed the Crackers to get aboard the lanes in almost every stanza, but the champions could not solve his offerings for runs. That is, with the exception of the fatal tenth. He permitted only four hits after the first inning, and they were well scattered.

Markle Brilliant.

Cliff Markle also dished up a brilliant brand of mound work. He was not given the fine support that was accorded Killen, for errors played a part in two of the Vols' tallies. Markle was very stingy with hits, when they meant runs. Several times the locals had runners on the puffs with one down, but could not produce the pinch hit. Vols got two on in the ninth and none down, but McLarry hit into a double play to pull Cliff out of a big hole.

An excellent play by Al Neihaus helped pull Markle out of a hole in the ninth. With a man on first and second and no one out, Bates laid a bunt down the third-base line. Neihaus, who was playing in close, raced over, picked up the ball and threw to third to get Hable by an eyelash. It was a fine piece of baseball and a play that happens not more than once per season. Hable, Neitzke and Spencer contributed some brilliant catches that were a big help to Killen.

REDS' HURLER SECRETLY WEDS

Cincinnati, Ohio, April 14.—(AP)—Adolfo Luque, star pitcher for the Cincinnati Reds, secretly married Mr. Mae Dennison of Cincinnati two days ago at Newport, Ky., his friends here learned today. The bride said they wished to keep the wedding secret because of the recent death of Luque's sister at Havana. The honeymoon has been postponed until the Reds start on their first road trip April 21.

Atlanta Seeks Speed Classics

Quick action toward organizing a southern race track league to compete against the big tracks of the north and east for automobile speed classics during the spring and summer was promised Wednesday by Oscar Mills, secretary of the Southeastern Fair Association and manager of Lakewood Amusement park. The local management is planning to go after an automobile race in the early spring following opening of the park Saturday of this week and in advance of the Indianapolis races May 31, in order to take advantage of the presence in the south of a number of noted record holders who have been spending the winter at Daytona and other southern tracks.

Tough Schedule.
Cavet Arrives.
More Good News.

FANS who expect much of the Crackers this year should not forget that the club is facing a mighty tough schedule for its first two weeks of play. If it finishes with its first opponents with a percentage as good as .500 there will be no kicking from either Dan Michalove or Bert Niehoff.

Consider the opening contests which were picked out for the Crackers. After two games with Nashville and three with Chattanooga to warm up, all the champions have to do is beat Mobile and New Orleans in consecutive series on the road and consecutive series at home. These are two of the strongest clubs in the league. If the Crackers can break even with them they should feel very well pleased with their first efforts of the season.

THE Nashville and Chattanooga barriers are not so hard to take—at least they do not figure to be—but the other two series are tough ones, involving some hard traveling as well as some fighting baseball.

Immediately after finishing the Chattanooga series at home the Crackers will board a train for Mobile, where they open on April 18 and play four games, then heading to New Orleans for a four-game stand starting on April 22. They come back home to open here against Mobile on April 26, playing three games before meeting New Orleans in three games starting April 29. That, I would point out to you, involves no little nerve and vigor.

PUG CAVET, brown and slim, undoubtedly in condition to start right away to help the Crackers to another pennant, blew into Atlanta and parked his baggage. He was glad to get back, but didn't think much of the winter day.

"I'm in good shape, ready to start," Cavet told President Dan Michalove as he blew in at the park. "I pitched a nine-inning game on the coast last Sunday and am as good as I would have been had I worked at Thomasville."

MORE good news came breezing in by the telegraph wires when Ralph Fraser wired from Washington that he had received word to report to the Crackers and would be on his way at once. He will probably be here today and will be ready to play baseball.

Dan Michalove believes he has picked up a fine ball player in Fraser. He received a telegram from John McGraw to the effect that the Giants considered Fraser a great athlete. "He will make you a great player," McGraw wired. If that is true, he certainly will be most welcome, for both Clarke and Haas, of the outfielding staff, are ailing.

TECH TENNIS TEAM DEFEATS DAVIDSON, 4-2

The Yellow Jacket net stars won their second match of the season Wednesday when they defeated the team from Davidson four matches to two. Captain Berry Grant, of the Tech team, was in top form and defeated the Davidson captain, L. M. McCutcheon, 6-2, 6-1. In the best match of the day Richard Carr, of Davidson, defeated Ernest "Pee Wee" Merry, of Tech, 5-7, 7-5, 7-5. It looked as if Merry would be the victor when he won the first set and obtained a 5-1 lead in the second, but the Davidson lad pulled a remarkable comeback and reeled off six straight games to take the set and even the score. The third set was closely contested, with Carr putting over the final punch to win. In another hard-fought match Walter James, of Tech, defeated Wood Brown, of Davidson, 6-2, 2-6, 6-4. In the fourth singles match Fred Wagner, of Tech, downed J. A. McAlpin, of Davidson, at 6-4, 6-2.

In the doubles the Davidson team of McCutcheon and Carr trimmed Grant and Merry at 6-2, 3-6, 6-1. The net play of the Davidson team featured in this match. James and Wagner secured the match up for Tech when they defeated Brown and McAlpin at 6-2, 6-3.

Tech's next opponent will be Clemson, the match to be played Saturday at 10 o'clock, at East Lake.

Hoff Will Try For New Record

Lawrence, Kan., April 14.—(AP)—Charles Hoff, of Norway, world's indoor pole vault record holder, will try for a new outdoor mark at the Kansas relays here next Saturday.

Hoff's latest indoor record was made Friday at Chicago, when he cleared the bar at 13 feet 8 1/2 inches. This was 1 1/2 inches below his outdoor altitude of 13 feet 9 3/4 inches established July 27, 1923.

Teams from 49 universities and colleges and many high schools will compete in the relays.

Rickard Proceeding With Arrangements For Dempsey Bout

Big Promoter Planning Match Between Champion and Gene Tunney, Instead of Wills, Despite Athletic Association's Ruling.

New York, April 14.—(By the Associated Press.)—Indications pointed today to a climax on the much-discussed heavyweight championship fight negotiations within the next few days.

Despite the persistent and apparently irrevocable opposition to the state athletic commission, Tex Rickard was understood to be proceeding with plans for a little match in August or September, with Gene Tunney as an opponent for Jack Dempsey, instead of the negro challenger, Harry Wills.

The promoter, according to his matchmaker, Jess McMahon, will have a definite announcement to make Monday.

Expiration tomorrow of the time limit for a conclusion of negotiations by Floyd Fitzsimmons, Chicago promoter, for a Dempsey-Wills match in the middle west, is another factor in the situation. Paddy Mullins, Wills' manager, has indicated he will seek other offers if Fitzsimmons does not carry out the provisions of his agreement on scheduled time.

Chicago's position as a possible site for a title contest also looms as a result of the vote legalizing ten-round decision bouts there. Fitzsimmons and Dempsey both have been quoted as favoring Chicago for a match with Wills or Tunney. Boxing observers here have attached significance to Rickard's recent "secret mission" to the Illinois metropolis and suggested that the Madison Square Garden promoter will extend his boxing interests to the middle west.

U. S. AND BRITISH PRINCES MAY PICK GLENEAGLES

Famous Club Bids For Fourth Coming International Match

Walter Hagen, American Team Captain, Receives Cablegram From British Leader Saying Several Clubs Were Angling For Match.

St. Petersburg, Fla., April 14.—(By the Associated Press.)—International professional golf team match to be played between outposts representing the United States and Great Britain will probably be played at the Gleneagles club in Scotland, according to a cablegram received here today by Walter Hagen, captain of the American team, from George Duncan, British captain. The message was announced by Robert E. Hallow, Hagen's manager.

Duncan stated that several clubs were eager to stage the match which will be played during the third week of June but that most satisfactory arrangements had been made with Gleneagles. Hallow also stated that an effort would be made this year to have the match taken in at the gate at the British open championship at Lytham, St. Anne's used for sending a British professional team to America last summer. Duncan informed Hallow that the British Professional Golfers' association favored the international matches.

In reply to Duncan's message, Hallow stated that his team of American professionals, including Macdonald, Al Watson, Gene Sarazen, Sam Snead, Bill Mehlhorn, Tommy Armour, Bobby Cruikshank, Al Esmond, Joe Kirkwood, Johnny Farrell, Jim Barnes and possibly two others not yet selected, was enthusiastic regarding the match. He requested only that the American team be allowed to name the number of years so that every member would be sure of participation.

Harlow will leave New York for London on May 5, while Hagen and members of the team will sail on May 25.

CONGRESSMEN TO BATTLE IT OUT ON DIAMOND

Washington, April 14.—(AP) Political issues won't count when democratic and republican members of congress go to bat May 1, to fight it out on a baseball diamond in their first game since 1918.

The game was played almost every year from 1909 to 1918 and wives of congressmen have succeeded in bringing about its revival this year. The game will be played at the American league park.

TECH DEFEATS 'BAMA TEAM 7-5 IN OPENER

BY CARTER BARRON.

With Captain Bob Reeves smashing the ball out of the field for three consecutive home runs, Georgia Tech's baseball team Wednesday captured the first game of a series with Alabama at Tech's new field by a score of 7 to 5.

The performance of the Tech shortstop is one of the most sensational in the annals of college baseball. He has averaged during the present baseball season more than one home run for each game and has cracked the ball for an average of better than 500. In addition his work at shortstop has been brilliant. He looks to be one of the finest young ball players in the country.

Alabama started the game with a blast of two runs, which, however, was matched by the Jackets in their half of the first inning. For Alabama Winslett walked and Rosefield was safe when Brewer, at first base dropped Reeves' throw on Rosefield's grounder. Barnes was thrown out by second runners advancing, and both scored when Cannaster singled. For Tech Wilder led off with a single and Reeves smashed his first home run over the left field fence.

Vincent walked for Alabama in the second inning. Chambers hit to Sneed, who made a bad throw to second to get Vincent, but both runners were safe. A passed ball by Angley put them forward another notch each. Hutto hit to Reeves, who threw to the plate to get Vincent, but missed him. Chasson then relieved Sneed in the box.

In Tech's second Crowley doubled, advanced to third on an error on Vincent's grounder and scored on an infield out.

In the third Reeves hit his second home run.

In the fourth singles by Crowley, Wilder, Brewer and Chasson accounted for another Tech run.

In the fifth Reeves again socked the ball out of the park, this time over the left field fence.

In the sixth Brewer scored on Moreland's single after advancing on an infield out.

Alabama added a pair of runs in the eighth when Cannaster singled and rode home ahead of Pepper on the latter's home run.

The same teams will meet again this afternoon. Edwards probably will pitch for Tech.

MY LIFE IN SPORTS

BY CHARLES HOFF

(Copyright, 1926, by The Constitution and the North American Newspaper Alliance.)

To make you understand anything at all of my first years as an athlete, I have to tell about the conditions under which athletes in Norway have to work. They are far from those here in America. There are practically no athletics in the schools, and the teachers have no interest for it. They still believe in gymnastics as the best form of athletics.

The training fields are as a rule municipal; no club can afford to have its own field, and every athlete, member of a club or not, has to pay all his expenses himself, steam bath, rubbing, etc. And through the year this amounts to about the same as it costs to be member of the best American clubs.

Interest in Athletics Large.
Still the interest in athletics is exceptionally large in Norway, but of course the winter sports, skiing and skating, have the greatest appeal. The summer season is short and it is hard to come in form early enough to be able to compete with people from the more southern countries. Indoor training is not yet common, and up to this time not one indoor competition has been held in Norway.

Even so my coach Kreigsman has been able to make an athletic nation of the Norwegians.

The possibility of victory in the Olympics is a thing Norway has to disregard. The country is too small. It has less than three million inhabitants and even though Kreigsman is national coach, he cannot reach the boys outside of the city in which he is working. But out of three men coming to him, he makes one champion, when his directions are followed, and I don't think there are many trainers who can show such results.

Kreigsman has studied athletics as a science; he applies physical laws to every exercise, and he has a wonderful knowledge of anatomy. Besides this he has been a very good all-around athlete himself. A year after becoming a professional he threw the spear more than three yards farther than the world record is now. He once beat Hannes Kolehmainen in a cross-country race.

But that is not what makes him such a marvelous coach. He works psychologically, and always tries to get at the thought life of his boys. His training is hard as iron. Many people cannot go through it, and give in. I shall never forget the two first years I worked under his directions; I'll tell about it in the next article.

HURLS OPENER

Hollis McLaughlin, veteran right-hander for Atlanta, will oppose the Chattanooga Lookouts on the mound in the opening game here today.

Lookouts To Oppose Locals In Opener; McLaughlin to Hurl

Many Attractions Will Mark Opening of 1926 Season in Atlanta—Box Office To Open at 12 O'Clock and Gates Will Open at 1 O'Clock.

BY H. C. HAMILTON.

Wafted in on the promise of fair and warmer weather, the Crackers landed back in Atlanta Wednesday night, ready to open the Southern league baseball season here at 3 o'clock this afternoon in the first game of a three-game series with the Chattanooga Lookouts. Hollis McLaughlin, star of the right-hand pitching staff, was picked as the opening hurler.

Wednesday afternoon most of the reserved box seats were reported to have been disposed of at Stuart Murray's place in the Candler building, but thousands of grandstand seats, which are not reserved, still were on sale at all of Murray's places and at Chess' place. It also was announced by Dan Michalove, president of the Crackers, that the box office at Spiller park would be opened at 10 o'clock today and that the gates would be thrown open at 1 o'clock in anticipation of a crowd that will tax the capacity of the park. There is no lack of seats still to be purchased, but many trimmings for the first Atlanta contest of the year have been promised. In spite of the fact that Bonnie Howe missed a year ago in his attempt to drop from an airplane in a parachute and land at second base with the first ball to be pitched, he will try it again this afternoon. If he is successful he will hit the ground at 3 o'clock and walk to the pitcher's box, where he will present the ball to Mayor Walter Sims, who will pitch it.

Bonnie will go aloft with Beeler Blevins, the local air pilot, who also will carry Francis E. Price to make photographs of the crowd and of the parachute jumps. Blevins will be flying for the A. B. McMullen company, which has been sending up ships from Candler field.

Kid Elberfeld probably will toss Red Bates and Hinkle into the fray as his opening battery. Bates is regarded as one of the best of the Chattanooga pitching corps, which, while not rated overly strong among the Southern leaguers, still carries a kick in several performers. Elberfeld, after wandering about the league among various clubs, has returned to the Chattanooga club, which he formerly managed. He is one of the most colorful of the league pilots.

In pointing out that many seats are available for late buyers of tickets, Dan Michalove, president of the Crackers, called attention to the fact that 1,500 additional seats are available because of the construction of more bleachers down the left field line. These seats were not available a year ago when a capacity crowd witnessed the opening contest.

There is all the parking space that could be desired near the park, and thoroughfares have been opened which make reaching the park a much easier matter than it was a year ago. Leaving has also been simplified. Glen Iris drive had not been built when the last season was opened, but it now is one of the finest streets in the city and turns into Ponce de Leon avenue only a short distance from park.

Additional parking space has been provided by R. J. Spiller through the construction of the new swimming pool next to the baseball park. A drive has been constructed between the park and the new pool. It leads to a large, roomy spot just outside left field. Several hundred cars can be placed in it. Leaving has been made convenient by construction of a drive leading into Ponce de Leon avenue at the other side of the pool.

Blevins Is Pilot.
Special street cars will run, as in years past, and enough of them has been promised by the Georgia Railway & Power company to carry a capacity crowd without inconvenience.

Bert Niehoff, manager of the Crackers, will be making another bid for a Southern league pennant with a team which now ranks with the others in the matter of standing. Through their victory Wednesday at Nashville in a 10-inning contest with the Vols the Crackers take rank with every other club in the league at the 500 mark.

Several new faces will be present among the Crackers. In addition to Durocher, the new and flashy shortstop; Al Niehaus, Clarke, Haas, Luebke, Love, and Markle, there will be Ralph Fraser, outfielder, who was snared by waivers a few days ago. He has reported for duty to relieve Clarke or Haas in case recent injuries to those two gardeners should force them out of the lineup.

"Roll" call... get out the papers and P.A.

"ROLL" call! Time to take out the tidy red tin or tippy red bag of Prince Albert, and roll the greatest little home-made cigarette ever. P. A. rolls easier—doesn't land in your lap or blow all over the place. That's because P. A. is crimp-cut and stays put in the papers.

And what a wonderful taste these home-rolled cigarettes have! Mellow as moonlight. Mild as Indian summer. Cool as a draught of spring-water on a sultry day. Cool and comfortable! P. A. can't bite your tongue or parch your throat. Because—the Prince Albert process cuts out bite and parch.

Open a tin or bag of P. A. and revel in that fragrance of real tobacco. It smokes just as fragrant too. If you've never rolled them with this tobacco, a million-and-more men will tell you what you've been missing. Get started now. You'll want to make up for lost time by rolling one right after another.

P. A. is great in a jimmy-pipe too. As a matter of fact, many men who thought they never would like a pipe have switched to P. A. and are now pipe-regulars. Try Prince Albert both ways. Pipe or cigarette, it's just the mellowest, sweetest, most enjoyable smoke ever.

P. A. is sold everywhere in tidy red tins and tippy red bags. And always with every bit of bite and parch removed by the Prince Albert process.

PRINCE ALBERT

—no other tobacco is like it!

HUSBAND SLAYS 2, THEN SHOOTSELF

Elk Valley, Tenn., April 14.—(AP)—Mrs. Linda Bird Stanfield, 50, and Mr. A. Yance, 55, were shot to death near the latter's home this afternoon by Pryor Stanfield, husband of the woman, who returned to his home and here ended his life by blowing his brains out with a shotgun.

The triple tragedy, according to neighbors of the dead persons, was the culmination of continual quarreling between Stanfield and his wife. Stanfield had been in the home for the last few days and Mrs. Stanfield spent her nights with neighboring families rather than at home. She had spent Sunday and Monday nights with Yance and his wife and Tuesday night at the home of Mrs. Grant's family.

Stanfield, it is said, became highly incensed at this conduct and this afternoon, armed with a single-barrel shotgun, started out to find his wife. He was at the Yance home standing in the yard talking with Yance and a wife when Stanfield arrived. An argument between the men started and Stanfield is said to have threatened Yance, who said, "Oh, you won't shoot me." Stanfield is charged with saying, "I'll shoot you and then I'll shoot myself." He then fired his load into Yance's head. The women screamed and ran in opposite directions. Stanfield following his wife at a distance of about 100 yards and stopping her, fired another charge from his gun into the right breast and side. She sank down and died without speaking.

LAWYERS DISCUSS FEDERAL COURT TO SETTLE STRIKES

New York, April 14.—(AP)—Discussion of the advisability of establishing a federal industrial court to settle strikes and other problems between employers and employees featured today's hearing before the committee on commerce, trade and commercial law of the American Bar association. Chairman Province M. Pogue, of Cincinnati, presided.

While there are several bills before congress for establishment of a court of this sort, the bar committee, it was learned, wants to formulate a bill of its own. The hearing today was to observe the various angles of public opinion as regards the formation of such a bill, which would be equitable to both labor and capital.

The American Federation of Labor was voiced as being unqualifiedly against establishment of such a court by Matthew Woll, vice president of the federation, who appeared before the committee. Such a measure, he declared, "would destroy freedom of the collective bargaining" between employer and employee and would, furthermore, be "unconstitutional as well as impracticable."

SPANISH AIRMEN
BELIEVED LOST IN SYRIAN DESERT

Cairo, Egypt, April 14.—(AP)—Captain Estevez, leader of the Spanish air expedition from Madrid to Manila, and his mechanic, Calvo, seemingly are lost in the Syrian desert. Their plane, which they deserted Sunday 100 miles from Amman while on the Cairo to Bagdad flight, has been found, but no trace of the aviators.

Responding to the appeal of Silvio Valin, Spanish minister to Egypt, the British vice air marshal here, said that everything humanly possible was being done to locate the missing men. Numerous British aviators are flying low in every direction in their search, but it is possible that Estevez and Calvo may have become exhausted, either through the terrific heat or lack of food and water supplies, and it would be difficult to locate their bodies.

There also have been various rumors current that they have been located, but thus far confirmation of this is lacking.

Tribes To Insist Upon Independence
For Riffs, Report

Paris, April 14.—(AP)—Latest reports from Morocco have cast some what of a shadow over optimism that peace negotiations at Oudida. It was strongly insisted in quarters closely in touch with native Moroccan sources that the delegates of the tribesmen will represent Abd-el-Krim as the "pretender" and that they will insist on Riffian independence.

It is affirmed in political circles that the French delegates have been instructed to obtain peace if possible on any terms that Spain will agree to.

Salvation Army Head Arrives To Attend Meet

New York, April 14.—(AP)—Silence reports that his mission to this country was to remove his sister, Miss Evangeline Booth, as commander of the Salvation Army in America. General W. Bramwell Booth, international commander of the organization, arrived today on the Olympic. He will attend the Salvation Army congress in Chicago.

Questioned about prohibition, he declared that he was a time-worn foe of drink and could wish for nothing better for the British empire than adoption of prohibition.

Miss Booth was not at the pier to meet her brother, due to convalescence from a recent illness. She sent him a warm personal message, however, and planned to meet him later today.

General Booth let it be understood he was sympathetic with his sister's position as leader of the organization here. He admitted, though, that the Salvation Army "contemplates the removal of officers at certain periods."

Asked whether Salvation Army workers may affiliate with secret organizations, General Booth said, "A Salvation Army member may be a member of a secret order, but an officer may not."

"Our officers," he said, "must be free from worldly influences, and so the collective bargaining" between employer and employee and would, furthermore, be "unconstitutional as well as impracticable."

A. M. E. Conference
Fight Looms Over
Secretary's Post

Addressed at a meeting of leaders who will attend today's session of the A. M. E. conference, the A. M. E. church, held the attention of the conference for more than an hour Wednesday.

Bishop A. J. Carey talked on the negro as a laborer and a helper in building up the country, especially the south. He said, "Towns, crossroads, cotton, corn, rice, potatoes and in fact whatever has been done in building up the country and the negro has been accomplished very largely by the black people."

Continuing, he said, "I was born in Georgia. My people were all born and educated and owned homes in this country. Some of our people are people live in Georgia and other states of the south. I am not unmindful that we have been in our race and are being punished, too, and that is as it should be. We can't do anything but stand up and say, 'We are not a kindly spirit, existing between the two races.'"

RUSSO-GERMAN TREATY IS MADE

Berlin, April 14.—A Russo-German neutrality treaty, in effect a Russo-German defense against other nations' possible attacks in the shape of economic, financial or military action, is close to completion. The formal treaty probably will be signed within the next few days.

The new agreement between the representatives of Berlin and Moscow will have far-reaching importance, it is believed here. Only a few points remain for discussion before the document is ready for signatures.

The treaty will definitely exclude participation of either Germany or Soviet Russia in any hostile military action against each other in case either nation is attacked by an outside power. It will also stipulate economic neutrality in case a third power or group of powers undertakes hostile economic measures against either nation.

This latter clause means that in case foreign powers launch an economic blockade against either nation, the Russo-German treaty will be bound to remain neutral in case certain powers apply sanctions against Germany should Germany fail to meet her reparations payments.

If the treaty is signed shortly, as is predicted here, Germany will file a copy with the League of Nations. Officials here anticipate no trouble with outside nations over the new document. They contend that it merely amplifies the Locarno agreements.

The neutrality treaty, as it will be known, will moreover confirm Germany's right to maintain its German situation justifies her enlistment in the league's economic and military measures as specified under article sixteen.

CONFEREES FAVOR
SOUTH GEORGIA
FISH HATCHERY

Washington, D. C., April 14.—(Special.)—The bill initiated by Senator Harris for establishment in south Georgia of a fish hatchery to serve Georgia and the adjacent states was approved Wednesday by the senate and house conferees and goes to the president for his signature.

The bill carries an appropriation of $300,000. A similar amount will be sought next year to complete the development plan.

CHATTOOGA TEACHERS HEAR DR. E. A. POUND

Summerville, Ga., April 14.—(Special.)—The regular monthly meeting of the Chattooga County Education association was held here Saturday. There was a large attendance and all teachers and school officials were very enthusiastic. Superintendent R. G. Vinson, of the Summerville school, who is president of the organization, presided.

Burbank's Religious Views Defended By Judge Lindsey

Santa Rosa, Calif., April 14.—(AP) The address delivered here today by Judge Ben B. Lindsey, of Denver, at the public memorial to Luther Burbank was both a tribute and a defense of the horticulturist's religious beliefs.

Luther Burbank was the most religious man I ever knew," Judge Lindsey said. "His was a real religion that actually works for human betterment—a religion that dares to challenge the superstition, hypocrisy and sham that so often worked cruelties, inquisitions, wars and massacre."

"The prejudiced beneficiaries of organized theology, misallied religion, refused to see that Burbank, the gifted child of nature, saw a vision as crystal as theirs is dense and dark. 'And so they assailed him. 'It is impossible to estimate the wealth he has created that has been given generously to the world. Unlike inventors, or workers in other fields, no patent rights were given him, nor did he seek a monopoly in what he did. Had that been the case Luther Burbank would have been the world's richest man. As it is the world has been richer because of him and in this he found a joy and satisfaction that no millions of money could give him."

"Luther Burbank lives forever in the myriad fields of strengthened grain, in the new forms of fruits and flowers and plants and vines and trees and above all, the newly watered gardens of the human mind from whence shall spring human freedom from those earthly fields that shall drive out gods, false and brutal."

Watch and Ward Evolution Laws
Society Enjoined Against Liberty
In Mercury Case Rights, Is Claim

Boston, April 14.—(AP)—A temporary injunction to restrain the Watch and Ward society from interfering with the distribution of the American Mercury was granted by Judge Morton in federal court today.

In announcing his decision on the case which was argued before him several days ago, the judge said that in his opinion, it was "plainly illegal" for Frank Chase, secretary of the society, to order news companies to refrain from handling publications of which he disapproved.

"The defendants," he said, "have the right of every citizen to come into court with complaints, but they have no right to impose their opinions on the book and magazine trade by threats of prosecution if their views are not accepted."

REIS ENDS CAREER OF HALF CENTURY
IN STEEL GAME

New York, April 14.—(AP)—A career of half a century in the steel business which began at the age of 15 was terminated today by John Reis, one of the two vice presidents of the United States Steel corporation, who resigned to retire from active affairs.

Mr. Reis, who lives in Montclair, N. J., has been a vice president of the Steel corporation since 1911. He previously had been associated with the Carnegie and other steel companies in the middle west.

THREE ARE NAMED FOR RAIL BOARD

Washington, April 14.—(AP)—Walter L. McMenimen, of Massachusetts, was nominated late today for another term as a member of the railroad labor board.

Earlier in the day President Coolidge had sent to the senate the nominations of Ben W. Hooper, of Tennessee, and Samuel Higgen, of New York, for another five-year term as members of the board. Hooper is chairman of the board and one of the public group. Higgen is a member of the management group, and Mr. McMenimen of the labor group.

The present terms of each expire at midnight. The Watson-Parker bill, already passed by the house, proposes abolition of the board and the setting up of new machinery for the adjustment of disputes between railroad employers and workers.

WIFE OF SURGEON
FREED BY POLICE IN CHECK CASE

New York, April 14.—(AP)—Mrs. Della D. Berne, young wife of a physician, who counts among his patients the new noses of Jack Dempsey and Fanny Brice, was discharged from custody today because no warrant for her arrest arrived from Florida where she was said to be wanted for grand larceny.

Mrs. Berne was arrested March 29 with her brother, Eliot Jaffe, and Paul Rosenthal as a fugitive from justice in St. Petersburg, where she was said to be wanted in connection with the larceny of $5,000 from the First National bank.

Jaffe and Rosenthal were turned over to Sheriff Howell, of St. Petersburg, when he produced governor's warrants. He had no warrant for Mrs. Berne and she was released after promising to appear voluntarily at the trial of the others to testify.

LEGION IS URGED TO JOIN DRIVE AGAINST CRIME

Louisville, Ky., April 14.—(AP)—The national headquarters of the American Legion is being called upon to start a drive to rid the country of criminals in a resolution adopted by Jefferson Post, here.

The resolution which was unanimously adopted sets forth that "practically every section of the United States is afflicted with lawlessness on the part of an unscrupulous foreigner who have no respect for our institutions, ideals or laws."

A local committee was appointed in conformity with the resolution as pertains to local activity.

over half million dollars are being planned for still greater public service. Dr. Bryant was highly commended for the work accomplished under his leadership. Bishop R. C. Ransom, of Tennessee, Editor G. W. Allen, Dr. C. A. Boon, E. Wittenburg, W. C. Orton, A. R. Fox and others also were visited at the session.

Bishop Flipper announced that he favored South America and the West Indies being made an Episcopal district. The general conference commission will meet in Atlanta, Ga., Thursday of this week and decide where the general conference goes and the number of bishops and general officers to be elected.

The United States produces 95 per cent of the world's automobiles.

Don't Fuss With Mustard Plasters!

Musterole Works Without the Blister—Easier, Quicker.

Don't mix a mass of mustard, flour and water when you can relieve pain, soothe or soothe with a little Musterole.

Musterole is made of pure oil of mustard and other helpful ingredients, the form of a white ointment, in little, crumb, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, headache, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, muscles, bruises, chilblains, frost-bite, colds of the chest (it may prevent pneumonia).

There also have been various rumors current that they have been located, but thus far confirmation of this is lacking.

What Is Joy?

"What joy would I get out of life if I didn't have my ointment business?" says Peterson.

"I am not a money grabber and I like to sell Peterson's Ointment for a good thing to my fellow men."

"I think I've got about the happiest job in the world. All I do is sell letters like the one below—and make Peterson's Ointment. Is it any wonder I am cheerful all day long?"

"I had four large ulcer sores as big as a half dollar for 2 years and Peterson's Ointment has healed them all and I am very glad to let anyone know about your Ointment. From a true friend, My address is 30 Walnut Street, West Haven, Conn. George Emptank."

The Adopted Wife

By Amelie Rives
(Princess Troubadour)

Reg. U. S. Patent Office.

INSTALLMENT XLVI. A PUZZLING SITUATION.

Releasing Celia's hand, Padraic knelt beside her smiling the white, joyous smile that she always saw when she thought of him, touched the orchids at her waist, and said:
"Two of these in your hair would be so charming... May I?"
Celia smiled too in assent, and bent her head toward him.
"Soon I must tell him," she was thinking. "I will tell him when he has finished putting the orchids in my hair."
He drew the flower stems deftly through the meshes of her head-dress one over each ear. As he did this, his fingers once or twice brushed her cheek. The light contact sent a shiver through him, and he noticed how burning her cheek was with its unusual flush. Could it be that she too? But no. She sat like an image under his touch, her gaze fixed on the fire, on her own thoughts—that he jealously felt were far away.
Padraic put his hand over her tightly locked ones.
"Princess... trop lointaine..." he whispered. "Come back to me..."
She came back with a start; paled, flushed again, withdrew her still locked hands from under his and lifted them against her breast.
"Padraic..." she began huskily. "Padraic... do you remember saying once... how wonderful it would be if there were no conventions... and we would wander together over the whole world?"
"O, Melusine, what a question!"
He held his breathe waiting for her next words. They came with startling directness.
"If you still wish it... I will go with you, Padraic."

Her cheeks were ablaze again, and she sprang to her feet before he could prevent her.

His natural reply to this was an attempt to take her in his arms, but she held him off.
"Wait," she said, and now her voice shook a little. "If you will take me away from here... tomorrow... I will go with you. If you do not take me away by then... it will be too late."
With lips parted Padraic gazed at her, surprise and apprehension in his look.
"Why will it be too late? What do you mean? What has happened?"
"Many things... I cannot stay in this house any longer..."
Now his look became one of actual terror.
He grasped her arm, stammered:
"What... What has... done?"
"If you mean Hilary, he has done nothing but be kind," answered Celia, in an odd, dry voice. "He is always kind."
Padraic's relief was so great, that he dropped his forehead on her arm to hide his face from her. He had imagined... absurd horrors! The next instant he looked up at her again and met a fleeting glance from her full of strangeness. The words that accompanied it startled him even more.
"If you will not take me with you... I shall go alone," she said.
"But dearest... Of course... I will do anything that you wish only..."
"Only?"
He was convinced now that the crimson flush on her face was fever; that she had some wild fancy bred of fever, and that he must be very careful not to offend her while trying to soothe and bring her to a more reasonable state of mind.
"Forgive me if I'm stupid," he said in answer to that rather cool "only?" "But I don't quite understand... Do you mean that you wish me to take you away... for good?"
"If you think it would be for good." She said this in a tone not only frigid but biting.
Padraic drew his hand across his forehead, which was damp.
"But dearest..." he began again.
"Yes?"
"If he is so kind... wouldn't it be...? I mean, if there's no real need of your leaving him so suddenly... it would seem rather cruel, don't you think so?"
Celia's face looked lost with the slightest, bitterest smile.
"If you've been mistaken," said she. "Why not say so frankly?"
"Mistaken..."
He was more at sea than ever and could only echo her in his bewilderment.
Her clasped hands began to tremble.
"Mistaken in thinking that you loved me."
This was too much.
Anger sprang into his heart, then tears into his eyes.
"Celia... Celia..." he cried, using her name for the first time. "You must be very ill to wish to hurt me like that... I am only thinking of you and you stick a knife into me..."
Tears were back of Celia's eyes also. They smarted intolerably.
"I... am... sorry," she managed. "Forgive me... but I must go... somehow... tomorrow..."
"You shall... You shall..." he soothed. "But won't you tell me why it must be tomorrow?"
That chilly fear which he had thankfully dismissed as absurd was beginning to steal over him again. "There must be some serious reason for your hurry... Please tell me."
"It is because he gave me three days to decide in. Tomorrow will be the second day. I wish to be gone before the third."
This plunged him into complete darkness.
To decide what? he ventured.
Her hands had stopped trembling at his assurance that she should go next day, but now she tried to withdraw them.
In her most muffled voice she replied:
"I'd rather not tell you that. The real reason is that I won't accept a divorce from him."
"Then he's offered you one?"
"Yes."
"Have you told him about... us?"
"Yes."
"And was that the reason he offered it?"
"Yes."
She had turned her face away from him, so that he had only a very "lost" profile to study. He tried desperately to fit together the extraordinary puzzle of their present situation. It quite baffled him. At last he ventured rather nervously:
"Why won't you accept a divorce from him, dearest?"
"Because he's an honorable man and he'd have to act a base lie to give me a divorce."
Padraic felt that he was on ticklish ground, yet must expostulate.
"That would only be a form, dear... everybody would understand."
"O, Padraic, it's you I want to understand! Can't you see that if I agreed to baseness I would be base too?"
Padraic couldn't see it, though he thought her divinely and childishly heroic, and told her so and that he adored her for it... but that the world looked at such things from another standpoint.
"O," Celia interrupted him despairingly... "You are talking just as he did!"... And I thought you would be different!"
Her cheeks were ablaze again and she sprang to her feet before he could prevent her. Beginning to laugh under her breath, she said with words broken by this jerky laughter:
"I... We would eat... brown bread and honey... under hedgerows... you said... but it seems I'm to eat... only... humble pie!"

Society Arranges Calendar To Include "Follies of 1926"

Now that the Junior League "Follies of 1926" are well under way and are proving without doubt that the Atlanta theater will be a gathering place of society each evening during the week, the social program has been changed accordingly and the majority of events planned for some day-time hour. The cabaret supper-dance at the Biltmore hotel this evening will follow the Follies performance without conflicting with it and will attract a large throng of the Thursday night audience as well as the popular members of the cast.

Miss Mona Dudley and Miss Elizabeth Crusselle are two charming brides-elect who will figure importantly in today's events and other parties will honor Mrs. Frank Dancy, of Baltimore, and Mrs. George Woodruff, who will leave soon to make her home in Birmingham, Ala.; Mrs. Walter Farley Roberts, of Utica, N. Y., the guest of her mother, Mrs. C. R. Stewart, and Mrs. Greenwood Haley, who is visiting Mrs. Carl Fischer.

An important cultural affair taking place today will be the meeting of the Nineteenth Century History class with Mrs. George M. Brown as hostess at her home on Muscogee drive.

Better Homes Week To Be Observed.

The Speakers' Bureau of the Atlanta Better Homes committee, with Roy Le Craw as chairman of the men's division and Mrs. Murray Howard, leader of the women speakers, is being kept busy the two weeks which precede Better Homes Week, April 25, by requests for speakers at the various club and organizations meetings of all kinds.

Mrs. Newton C. Wing, general chairman for Atlanta of the Better Homes in America, spoke at the Atlanta Woman's club on Monday afternoon, on plans for this year's campaign, and on Thursday afternoon of this week, will address the members of the Atlanta Normal school and the Parent Teacher association of the Faith school, where the normal is located.

A splendid program has been provided by Miss Emma Wesley, principal of the Atlanta Normal school, and Mrs. J. F. Wall, president of Faith P. T. A., for the meeting Thursday evening, which will be entirely devoted to the theme of "Home."

Starting the program will be low sixth grade in "Home Sweet Home," followed by the rendition of the poem "Heap o' Livin'" by Dorothy Collier. Reba Jernigan will talk of "The Good Home," and Mrs. J. E. Kerlin's subject will be "Children and the Home."

Of great interest will be the theme chosen by Miss Hattie Rainwater, director of elementary science for the city schools, who will speak on "The Cultivated Part of Home." Miss Rainwater is doing a most constructive work at present, in beautifying the grounds of the Better Home No. two, back of the Fair Street school, in connection with the Better Homes rehabilitation project, which is attracting so much interest, and in which that neighborhood is being shown how an old house may be remodeled.

Miss Juliet Crenshaw, Bride-Elect, Honored At Lovely Reception

Miss Juliet Crenshaw, a charming bride-elect, whose marriage to Charles Thiot Winship will be an interesting social event of May, was honor guest at the reception given Wednesday afternoon by Mrs. Elizabeth Thiot Winship at the Piedmont Driving club.

The club was handsomely decorated with a profusion of palms, growing plants and flowers. The tea table, arranged at the end of the ballroom, held three baskets filled with roses, snapdragons, sweet peas, calendulas and alstroemeria, and tied with bows of pastel shades. On either side of the tea table were punch bowls, imbedded in mounds of flowers. An orchestra, screened by palms, played an attractive program of musical numbers.

Assisting Mrs. Winship in the entertainment of the guests were Mrs. Joseph Winship, Mrs. Winship Nunnally, Mrs. Charles Orme Winship, Mrs. Ernest Woodruff, Mrs. Elizabeth Bates, Mrs. George C. Walters, Mrs. Frances Block and Mrs. Price Gilbert.

Serving punch were Miss Mary Crenshaw, Miss Anna Harriet Showmake, Mrs. Anne Bates Walsh and Mrs. George Woodruff.

St. Joseph's Alumnae Plan Benefit Bridge.

The alumnae of St. Joseph's infirmary will sponsor a large benefit bridge party Friday afternoon, April 16, from 2 to 5 o'clock, at the Imperial hotel. The price of the tickets will be 50 cents and the public is invited to attend.

Prominent Chattanoogaans Will Be Seen Among Opera Audiences

Among the brilliant opera audiences each evening of the grand opera season will be scores of out of town music lovers. The neighboring city of Chattanooga will be represented by a prominent group of opera-goers who sponsor and contribute largely to the success of the opera season in their own city.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Robertson Read will be among the prominent visitors Friday and Saturday, wishing specially to hear the young prima donna, Marian Talley, and the lovely Rosa Ponselle. Mr. Read is former president of the Chattanooga Chamber of Commerce and president of the Chattanooga Grand Opera association, which sponsored opera in that city the past three years.

Mr. and Mrs. Lon A. Worsham will visit Mrs. Worsham's sister, Mrs. W. O. Cheers, in Atlanta during opera.

Mr. and Mrs. John Thomas Lupton and Mrs. Milton B. Ochs will form a congenial party of distinguished guests who will be seen among the audiences during the week.

Other Tennesseans arriving from Chattanooga, will include Mrs. D. S. Etheridge and her attractive daughter, Miss Emily Etheridge; Mr. and Mrs. George B. Adams, Mrs. Irene Stoops Terry and her brother, Harry Stoops, and Miss Olaf Sweeney.

Professor and Mrs. Blinn Owen, Mrs. Bernard E. Loveman, president of the Macdowell club, and Mrs. E. T. Bosenhard will form a party of well-known Chattanooga musicians who will motor down to Atlanta for the opera on Thursday, April 22.

Misses Wise Give Party.

Misses Evelyn and Hazel Wise entertained Wednesday evening at their home on Greenwood avenue, the delightful occasion honoring Miss Eleanor Hancock, an attractive bride-elect. The hostesses were assisted in entertaining by Misses Pauline Ingram, Bernice Setzer and Louise Smith.

An effective color motif was carried out in yellow and white. Following a shower of useful gifts to the lovely honor guest, a buffet supper was served. Fifty guests were invited.

Maple Grove, No. 86, To Meet Friday.

Supreme Forest Woodmen circle, Maple Grove No. 86, will have their regular meeting Friday evening, April 16, at 8 o'clock, Red Men's wigwam. Every member is urged to be present, business of importance.

Camp W. H. T. Walker, No. 25, U. C. V., To Meet.

Camp W. H. T. Walker, No. 925, U. C. V., will hold their annual memorial service at the Inman Park Baptist church Sunday morning, April 18, at 11 o'clock. All Confederate Veterans and friends are invited to attend.

Decatur Woman's Club To Elect Officers Friday

The Decatur Woman's club will meet at the club house Friday, April 16, at 3 o'clock. This meeting is of special importance as the election of officers for the ensuing year will be held. Many plans for the new year will be discussed and every member is invited to be present.

One of the most interesting features of the afternoon will be a talk by Mrs. Charles Henderson, of Troy, Ala. Mrs. Ned Hartley and Mrs. Roy Jones will report on the state convention, which was held in Augusta last week. Mrs. Thomas M. Campbell will render a solo.

After the program the Decatur Woman's club will entertain the members of the club at an informal tea, in honor of the guest of the afternoon, Mrs. Charles Henderson.

Greeting the guests will be Mrs. derson. Those serving on the decoration committee will be Mrs. Stanley Hastings, Mrs. Myrick Clements, Mrs. Robert Hale, Mrs. Homer Howard, Mrs. Ralph Gordy.

Serving punch will be Mrs. Alfred Branch, Jr., Miss Nelle Candler, Mrs. Edward Ripley, Jr., Mrs. Joe Elder. Members of the club are requested to contribute jellies and other sweets to a sweets shower for the Methodist orphanage, sponsored by the chairman of the hospital committee, Mrs. W. N. Nelson, and the early planting of perennials. Plans were made for the annual flower show, which will be held at the Decatur Woman's club-house on May 22.

A benefit dance will be sponsored by the Junior Decatur Woman's club, Mrs. Wiley Jones, chairman, Saturday evening, April 17, beginning at 9 o'clock, and $1 per couple will be charged.

HIGH LIGHTS OF HISTORY

MANY OF THE POOR FARMERS OF WESTERN MASSACHUSETTS HAD BEEN RUINED BY THEIR CREDITORS WHO REFUSED TO ACCEPT THE STATE PAPER MONEY IN PAYMENT OF DEBTS.

DRIVEN TO REVOLT BY THEIR WRONGS, THE FARMERS SPRANG TO ARMS UNDER THE LEADERSHIP OF DANIEL SHAYS, A FORMER SOLDIER, AND FOR A TIME A BLOODY "REIGN OF TERROR" SEEMED AT HAND.

NOTE: SHAYS CLOSED THE COURTS AT WORCESTER AND NORTHAMPTON.

THE UPRISING SOON ASSUMED SERIOUS PROPORTIONS.—LED BY DANIEL SHAYS, A MOB OF 1,100 MEN BROKE UP THE COURTS WHERE SOME OF THE FARMERS WERE BEING TRIED AND EVEN LAID SIEGE TO THE ARSENAL AT SPRINGFIELD.

SHAYS REBELLED IN 1786-1787. BY J. CARROLL MANSFIELD.

ALARMED BY THIS THREAT OF A CIVIL WAR, GOVERNOR BOWDWIN OF MASSACHUSETTS SENT GENERAL LINCOLN WITH SOLDIERS AND CANNON TO CRUSH THE INSURRECTION.—AT THE SIGHT OF THE ARTILLERY, SHAYS' MEN DISPERSED AND FLED.

SHAYS WAS ARRESTED AND BROUGHT TO TRIAL, BUT WAS LATER RELEASED BECAUSE OF HIS POWER AND POPULARITY AMONG THE FARMERS.

SHAYS' REBELLION IS TYPICAL OF THE MANY DIFFICULTIES WHICH BESET THE STATESMEN WHO WERE STRIVING TO GIVE OUR NEW REPUBLIC A STABLE GOVERNMENT.

MARTIAL LAW NEARS FOR PASSAIC COUNTY

Passaic, N. J., April 14.—(P)—Minor disturbances in Garfield and Lodi, and additional threats of the near martial law of the riot act for Passaic county today were developing in the Passaic district textile strike.

The Garfield disturbance resulted when an attempt was made at a "free speech" meeting to test the validity of the riot act in effect in Bergen county for two days.

Thomas, former socialist candidate for mayor of New York, was arrested while addressing 200 textile workers.

Thomas was taken to Hackensack and held in $10,000 bail on a charge of violating the riot act. He will be given a hearing tomorrow.

SIX PRISONERS FLEE MIAAMI

Miami, Fla., April 14.—(P)—Six negroes, two under death sentence escaped from the Dade county jail here early today. The jail break was not discovered until several hours later.

John Lawrence and Willie Green, known as "The Twentieth Street Killers," both occupants of the death cell, effected their get-away by tearing loose the iron bars in their window and lowering themselves to the jail yard in the face of a battery of lights by means of tied blankets.

Here they were forced to climb a high fence, topped with barbed wire. The four other prisoners escaping included William Coleman, convicted murderer of another negro; "Yapp" James and Dave "Yennessee" Bedford, both charged with assault with intent to kill, and John Geiger, grand larceny. These missing convicts were believed to have followed the two leaders, as the door of the death cell was found unlocked.

The two killers occupied the same cell with Arthur Williams, negro, member of the same gang, who was under life sentence. Williams was found asleep in his cell by investigating officers. The trio was convicted here in January, charged with a series of murders, including that of three white men and one negro, each killed during attempted robberies.

Cotton Market Reacts On Weather Reports

NEW YORK, April 14.—(P)—Cotton which means an increased percentage of waste. Exports for the day were 15,863 bales, making 6,746,430 so far this season, against 7,253,063 last year. Port receipts today 17,999. U. S. port receipts, 1,111,487.

NEW ORLEANS, April 14.—(P)—The cotton market was comparatively quiet today but the trend of prices was upward owing to the large domestic consumption figures for March and fears of unsettled weather in the south was followed by reactions in the cotton market today. After selling up to 18.90, May closed at 18.55, while October, after selling at 17.57, closed at 17.47. The general market closed barely steady, not unchanged to 7 points.

The opening was steady 1 point lower to 3 points higher. A few overnight selling orders were quickly absorbed and the market advanced rather sharply during the latter hour of the report of the census bureau showing domestic mill consumption of 634,593 bales for March against 567,244 for February. 585,407 for March last year and the previous high record of 624,264 bales reported for March, 1925. There was buying also on new crop reports from the south which were followed by a renewal of unsettled conditions and for a time the market was shaky.

Country and city police and motorcycle officers have thrown a cordon around the outskirts of Miami in an effort to capture the escaped convicts.

The opening was steady 1 point lower to 3 points higher. A few overnight selling orders were quickly absorbed and the market advanced rather sharply during the latter hour of the report of the census bureau showing domestic mill consumption of 634,593 bales for March against 567,244 for February. 585,407 for March last year and the previous high record of 624,264 bales reported for March, 1925. There was buying also on new crop reports from the south which were followed by a renewal of unsettled conditions and for a time the market was shaky.

Country and city police and motorcycle officers have thrown a cordon around the outskirts of Miami in an effort to capture the escaped convicts.

NEW YORK, April 14.—(P)—An early advance on bullish domestic consumption figures for March and fears of unsettled weather in the south was followed by reactions in the cotton market today. After selling up to 18.90, May closed at 18.55, while October, after selling at 17.57, closed at 17.47. The general market closed barely steady, not unchanged to 7 points.
